

Court Suspends Former Student

By JAGI THOMPSON
Staff Writer

Indefinite suspension, the most severe sanction as yet imposed by the Student Court, was imposed Feb. 9 on a former student found guilty of violating Section I.B. 2.b. and Section I.B. 2.c of the Student Conduct Code.

The student, who was a senior, but was academically disqualified at the end of fall term, pleaded guilty to both charges.

The first charge was that, in November of last term, he falsified information to obtain state residency by signing an Oregon State System of Higher Education residency information affidavit, on which information was incorrect in three instances.

The second charge was that, in December of last term, he addressed a letter to his parents on stationery belonging to Associate Director of Admissions Gerald K. Bogen, and signed the letter "Gerald K. Bogen."

Officials connected with Student Court reported there undoubtedly are more violations of falsified information to obtain state residency. They would like to remind students of the seriousness of the violation, of the severity of the resulting sanction, and of the difficulty in being readmitted to the University. Readmittance at any time depends on a committee's evaluation of the charge.

These officials have indicated that extra efforts will be made in the future to catch all violators.

In the second case of the session, the Court found a second-term freshman guilty of violating Section I.B. 2.c. of the Code.

The sanction was disciplinary probation for the remainder of the school year, plus eight hours of custodial work as arranged by the physical plant.

The student, who pleaded innocent, was charged with taking a chair belonging to his dorm complex to his home in Bend. The chair was taken the week of Dec. 12 last term and returned after Christmas vacation.

Defense submitted a motion that evidence obtained from the accused's counselor, could not be used in the testimony. Defense said a counselor is a confidant, and a confession to a counselor is confidential and privileged, and therefore does not have to be revealed in court.

Prosecution defined a counselor as an administrator as well as a confidant. He said the confession in this instance was not confidential, since the counselor had been acting in an administrative capacity when he went to the defendant and asked him if he had taken the chair.

The court denied the motion of defense that the counselor's testimony be excluded.

During the hearing, the defendant said he took the chair only as an "R.F." and didn't mean to keep it as long as he did.

Saturday Concert To Feature Blues

"Evolution of the Blues" will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at McArthur Court.

The program, billed as the story of jazz, will feature Jon Hendricks, Jimmy Witherspoon, Big Miller, and Hannah Dean. Hendricks has been a featured performer at the Monterey Jazz Festival for several years.

Hendricks' song, "Everything Started in the House of the Lord," has been the theme song of that festival for six years.

Ralph Gleason, writing in the San Francisco Chronicle, has described the blues program as the story of the "natural development of music and of the captured peoples of Africa finding their new destiny in a new world."

The concert is being presented under the sponsorship of the Student Union Board in conjunction with Dads Day.

Reserved seat tickets cost $2, reserved section $1.50, and general admission, $1. Tickets may be purchased at the SU Main Desk and at Mattox Pipe Shop.

McCall to Speak At Friars Banquet

Secretary of State Tom McCall will address the annual banquet of the University Friars, senior mens' honorary, Monday at the Holiday Inn in Eugene.

McCall, a 1936 graduate in journalism from the University, was elected to Friars during his senior year. He also served as president of the Inter-fraternity Council and was sports editor of the Emerald.

McCall's older son, Tad, is a senior in history at the University.

University Trio Slates Concert

The University Trio, a faculty chamber music ensemble, will perform three works during a concert at 4 p.m. Sunday in the School of Music auditorium.

The concert is being given prior to an eight-day tour by the University Trio of cities in Oregon and Washington.

Selections on the program include "Piano Trio in E Major, K. 542" by Mozart; "Piano Trio No. 2" by Ross Lee Finney, resident composer of the University of Michigan; and "Piano Trio in B Major, Opus 8" by Brahms.

The public is invited to attend free of charge and to meet the artists in the rehearsal room following the concert.

Ontological Farce Lecture Topic

"Beckett's Theatre: Ontological Farce" will be discussed by Walter Strauss, professor in the Department of Romance Languages, Emory University, at the University at 8 p.m. today in 138 Commonwealth.

The public lecture is sponsored by the University Honors College.

Sigma Chi Goes Local At Lafayette College

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Lafayette College chapter of Sigma Chi withdrew Wednesday from the national fraternity "after almost 100 years of loyal association" because it sought to induct a student from Hawaii—and didn't receive approval after 13 months of trying.
