

Phony Loyalty Oath Circulated at Illinois

URBANA, Ill. (CPS) — Unknown persons circulated a document purporting to be a university-required loyalty oath among graduate students at the University of Illinois last week and the campus has been in an uproar ever since.

The document was put in graduate students' mail boxes after having been folded letter size, addressed by typewriter, and left with other mail outside the college offices.

The university did not discover the existence of the fraudulent "oath" until several graduate assistants brought it to the attention of the secretary of the Board of Trustees.

At that time, three graduate students had already complied with the supposed regulation of a Nov. 17 trustees' meeting and had filled out the information sheet, had it notarized, and turned it in to the graduate admissions office.

The document said that the Board had ordered "all graduate students to submit each semester an affidavit affirming allegiance to the Constitutional government of the United States."

The "oath" contained an affidavit stating that the recipient was not and never had been a member of the Communist party, of any organization controlled by or affiliated with the Communist party, or of any organization advocating or attempting the forceful overthrow of the government of the United States.

The document also said that "any willful misrepresentation or omission of facts, or failure to sign and return this form as directed will be cause for immediate dismissal from the university."

According to A. J. Janata, the Trustees' secretary, the Board did not even meet on Nov. 17 as stated in the document, and such an oath "hasn't been discussed by the Board for years."

Illinois does have an employee affidavit oath that was passed by the Illinois General Assembly in 1955. All graduate students who work for the university are required to sign that oath as are other employees of the state.

Co-op's Taking Applications

Co-Ed Housing, Inc., is currently accepting applications from University women interested in living in co-operative housing during spring term.

There will be space available in each of the four houses—Highland, Laurel, Rebec and University—so applicants may state their house preference.

Members will be selected on a basis of scholarship, a willingness to work and live co-operatively, and financial need.

In return for four to five hours of house jobs a week, co-op members pay a substantially smaller room and board bill. Room and board for spring term has been estimated at about $150.

Applications, which may be picked up in the Dean of Women's office in Emerald Hall, must be completed by March 11. A $10 deposit, which is refundable, must accompany all applications.

Those wishing further information are urged to contact Barbara Reid, Co-Ed Housing president, at University House, ext. 2283 or 345-9355.

PL-3 to Carry Poverty Debate

The Poverty Conference debate will be telecasted on PL-3 and Channel 10 from 8:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. today and Mar. 9.

Two to Offer Views On Strike at Delano

Dan Knapp and Buzz Willits, of the University VISTA training staff, will relate their views of a very recent trip to Delano, and of the Farm workers' strike there, at 7 p.m. Thursday at the SDS meeting in the Student Union.

"Room for GENIUSES," General Electric Company, P.O. Box 215, Church St. Station, New York, N. Y. 10046

General Electric is passing out GENIUS buttons. What's the point?

We want to spread the word that there's room at General Electric for talented people who want to take on big challenges.

We like to call these people GENIUSES. But what they're called isn't so important as where they're headed. And at the General Electric Company, there's plenty of room for GENIUSES, no matter what their particular field of interest. If you want to be recognized for your talents come to General Electric, where the young men are important men.

And be among the first on your campus to own a genuine GENIUS button. It will serve as a reminder that G.E. . . and GENIUS . . . and important challenges . . . all go together.
