

SDS Sponsors Delano Discussion

By MIKE BUCK
Staff Writer

"Viva la Huelga (strike)!" shout picketing farm workers to their fellows laboring in the grape fields around the Delano, Calif., area.

This was one of the expressions related Wednesday evening at a panel sponsored by the Students for a Democratic Society by VISTA trainees Dan and Paige Knapp.

The Knapps visited the area and in mid-February. They showed slides and described how the strikers would cram into 25 cars and travel in a caravan, police-escorted, to the grape growers' property. They would lineup at the property's edge and shout through megaphones, "come out of there. Join us. Be men. We'll take care of you . . ."

The pickets have been active since September, 1965, when the Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee of the AFL-CIO and the National Farm Workers Association called the strike.

The strike was centered around wages and working conditions. The AWOC and the NFWA are encouraging a nationwide strike of all the products of Schenley wines and liquors. Schenley is one of the largest grape growers in the area (35,000 acres).

Greg Johnson, another panel member, marched with strikers on a San Francisco dock. Johnson is a junior in sociology at the University and a member of the SDS. He said that the longshoreman's union cooperated and "in this aspect the strike was very successful."

But he added that it was more than a strike. "It's a social movement. Psychologically there's a stimulation for the farm workers to better themselves. They have become a highly solidified community."

Although the higher wage demand will increase the likelihood of automation of the grape industry in the near future, Johnson feels that "the new spirit will be necessary when the workers will have to be retrained for other jobs."

Mrs. Knapp said that besides the SDS, CORE, SNCC, "and most liberal organizations" encourage drives for food and clothing for the strikers.

Ken Kastner, a member of the SDS said that in sympathy for the march from Delano to Sacramento, which will culminate on Easter Sunday, there will be a pilgrimage to the Eugene Unitarian Church, 447 40th Ave., East, starting at 8:30 p.m. The Rev. Carl Nelson will discuss the problems in Delano.

Enrollment Up For Spring Term

Registration for spring term at the University had reached 10,386 by Tuesday at 5 p.m., the deadline for payment of fees without a penalty.

This figure is 12 per cent ahead of a registration figure of 9,157 for the same period for spring term, 1965.

The total registration for spring term, 1965, was 9,463. If the present increase of 12 per cent is projected to the close of registration, the University can expect a total 1966 spring term registration of around 10,700.

Basketball Courts Now Being Built

Six outdoor basketball courts are now being constructed on 13th St. south of Bean Hall.

The courts, which are being constructed as part of a dormitory recreation project, will be ready for use within the next two weeks, according to Wilbur Weed, physical plant superintendent.

Included in the recreation project will be an open area "big enough to play football on," Weed said.

According to Weed, the recreation project, which runs along 15th St. between Moss and the alley east of Agate, will be completed by fall term.

Weed said that the recreation area may be temporary because the parking lot, south of and adjacent to the planned recreation area, will eventually be used for dormitory housing.

While in Viet Nam he received the South Vietnamese Silver Star, the Combat Infantry Badge, the Bronze Star and the United States Army Air Medal. He was nominated for the American Silver Star and was the first enlisted man in Viet Nam to be nominated for the Legion of Merit. Both nominations are still pending.
