

'Si' to Leave . . .

 were 5,000 students on the campus, student activities were limited mainly to such events as Homecoming and Junior Weekend, and the Student Union and Educational Activities budget was $300,000.
 Now there are 13,000 students, activities have broadened considerably, especially in the political area, and the budget this year will come close to $1 million.

"Constant Contacts"

University President Arthur S. Flemming said, "There are few people who have so intimate a knowledge of the University alumni and friends because of the constant contacts he has had with students during his many successful years directing the Student Union.

"We are most fortunate in being able to call on the talents of someone with the abilities Mr. Ellingson possesses to continue to provide the University with inspired leadership in this important field."

Ellingson made the "basic decision" to accept the appointment in the middle of March, though there were details to work out after that. The offer "came as a complete surprise."

"I had not anticipated that kind of work," he said, "and I go into it with reservations, since I am following an extremely able man."

Reservations

He said the reservations were "whether I could do it" and "whether I would be happy doing it."

His new job?

"You can't equate that job with this one," Ellingson said. "The ability of public institutions to move ahead will be determined by their ability to develop private giving of uncommitted funds to supplement state funds and federal grants."

He said one area he hoped to expand was a program of student giving. "If we can develop the concept of giving in the four undergraduate years, it should carry over," he said.
 He said he also hopes to raise money for areas in which he is especially interested, such as improvement of on-campus recreational facilities.

Confidence in Cross

He expressed confidence in Cross's ability to handle the job. "Jack's relationship with students is good," he said. "He's completely honest with students. I feel confident that he will display the greatest effectiveness and efficiency in this position."

Cross chuckled that, "I can see things being pretty rough. If I can follow Si's example I can't go wrong. I think he has established a rapport with students that few men have."

"You get into a pretty rough spot taking over from a guy who has a national reputation," Cross added, referring to Ellingson's position as president of the Associated College Unions.

Cross said Ellingson will continue to work on long range SU planning, the 1966-67 budget, and the draft of the Student Activities Committee.

"Busy Summer"

He said he was "looking forward to an extremely busy summer to get prepared for the onslaught of the coming year."

He said two new people will be brought in on a temporary basis, one to replace him as associate director, another to substitute for Program Director Adell McMillan, who will be on sabbatical next year.

Cross said he had asked only to be named acting director, since he is unsure whether he will be able to stay. He said he did not know if he would be a candidate for the permanent position.
