"Fighting the wrong war in the wrong place at the wrong time" (quote by Howard Morgan from General Bradley) may not be so appealing to our people. This is why so many thoughtful people are attracted to the campaign of Howard Morgan.

Why Draft Tests?

Emerald Editor:

Our government has decided it needs more soldiers for this "small" war in Viet Nam; Congress has authorized the sending of an additional 400,000 men. It has decided it can no longer defer all students, and has begun to draft them off the campus.

But our influential businessmen have personnel needs, too, just like our generals. They need that steady stream of young administrators and managers and technicians and scientists that the multiversity has promised to keep on supplying.

So between the old men who run industry and the old men who run the military, there's a friendly tug-of-war. We male students are the prize.

To divide us up the government has decided to hold an examination May 14, May 21, and June 3. All of us are invited to take part in this beat-the-draft exam.

And the millions of us who take the exam will do so for one and only one reason—to stay out of the Viet Nam war.

Those who pass will have their 2-S deferment intact, at least for a while. Those who fail can start coloring themselves khaki.

We want to ask some questions of our own.

What about all the guys our age who don't even get this chance? Those whose parents didn't have enough money to send them to college? Those whose background didn't even teach them they should want to go?

Do we smell a little old-fashioned "class privilege" here? We know of a pre-law hotshot from Yale who said, "Students are the brains of the country's machine. The machine needs its brains. Let the jocks and the dumbheads be the heroes." Blunt? Even a little sickening? But that's exactly the message of this Selective Service exam: If you're white and middle-class and a dean's-list kind of guy, relax. If you're not, fall in.

For another thing—a lot of the guys who will take this test think the Viet Nam war is a right kind of war, necessary and just and patriotic. We in SDS think it's a wrong kind of war, not necessary, not just, and not American. But what about you who think Johnson tells the truth?

When your brothers are over there dying trying to do something you think needs to be done, why are you back here at home trying to pass a test in order to stay out of it?

And a third thing in these tests, they're going to ask us to parade our knowledge of math, sciences, and language, our skills at reasoning and membership. And on the basis of our answers to questions about poems and physics and geometry, we will or will not be "eligible" for the draft, will or will not be inducted, will or will not be sent to Viet Nam, maybe to kill and maybe to die.

So what does geometry have to do with the Viet Nam war?

If the government intends to train us to be killers if we fail its test, why doesn't it ask us instead what we think this war is all about? Why doesn't it ask us what we think we'd be killing and dying for?

When you kill a man, you kill a man. And we think you'd better know what you're doing when you do it.

So why doesn't the government look for people who want to be soldiers in this war? And if nobody wants to fight it, and if they can't persuade us, then why don't they quit trying to force us to fight? After all, the thing about American democracy is supposed to be that the government belongs to the people. Or maybe things have changed? Maybe now it's the other way around? Maybe the real battle for democracy is right here in America?
