Minnesota Sigma Chi's

its suspension by the university to the faculty - senate committee on student affairs, according to the fraternity attorney and alum-ni president George M. Roehrdanz.

The suspension, effective Jan. 1968 unless the fraternity can show before then that it does not discriminate, was announced two weeks ago in a decision handed down by the all-University judiciary council.

The appeal is being made,
Roehrdanz said, on the grounds that Sigma Chi has evidence not available at the time of the judiciary council hearings, that the case was initiated and conducted improperly, and that the decision was contrary to the weight of evidence.

Bring New Evidence

If new evidence is brought up by Sigma Chi, the case would go back to the judiciary council for a rehearing. The student affairs committee would only hear the case as an appeal, and when all the evidence has been presented to the judiciary council.

De Facto Segregation

The University of Minnesota has contended that the Stanford incident-where the Sigma Chi chapter was placed on suspension by its national after announcing its plans to pledge a Negro — was de facto segregation. This would put the local chapter in violation of a regulation saying all organizations must be free to choose their members regardless of race.

Sigma Chi contends that the Stanford suspension was for the chapter's refusal to accept the tion and because they held the national in contempt. No discrimination was involved, Sigma Chi contends.

All of this was brought out at the original judicial council hearing, however, and no Sigma Chi spokesman would say what the "new evidence" might be.

At the hearing the council ruled that since there was no record of the national's deliberations in the Stanford incident and since there was nothing to indicate discrimination was not involved, the Minnesota chapter should be suspended until it could show that it was free not to discriminate in its membership policies

Billings has accused the council of holding the fraternity "guilty until we can prove we're inno-
