new senators, establishing office hours, parliamentary procedure, and sponsoring informal Senate meetings.

I did not expect the Emerald's editorial endorsement, as we hold differing viewpoints on our basic philosophies of student government. However, I likewise did not expect a libelous and unsubstantiated blasting of my own reputation and those of others mentioned in the column, as this only gives me more evidence with which to pursue my Emerald reforms.

To those who voted for me and support my platform, I pledge to 1) write for and do research on political party systems used at other colleges with the goal of experimenting next year with types suitable for our campus environment to attempt to solve student apathy, 2) do as a senator whatever I can to begin again the Student Committee on Higher Education, 3) through legislation, strengthen and broaden the purpose of the Student Political Union, and 4) to pursue and accomplish the Emerald reforms which I advocated in my platform.

It is in regards to this last pledge that I make my challenge. I challenge the Emerald editorial board itself to work with me in providing for better means thru which students can express their constructive criticisms of the paper. I further challenge the students to rally their support and their energies behind my attempts at reform. I hope to establish a student-Emerald evaluation poll and to legislate an appeals board through which students and groups can protest with evidence when their character or reputation is attacked unfairly by the Emerald. To accomplish these I will need the full co-operation and overt support of the student body.

In defense of you the students, I pledge myself as a senator to challenge these areas in which you have expressed concern.

Mike Donahue
Senator-at-Large

In Good Taste

Emerald Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who so tirelessly and enthusiastically helped with and supported the Drummonds-Bollinger campaign for ASUO president and vice president.

Due to your efforts, it can be safely assumed that the leadership of student government at the University will be in able hands for the next year, and will follow the direction indicated in the Drummonds-Bollinger platform.

With a mandate of 2,600 votes behind them, and the seemingly increased interest by students in student government, Drummonds and Bollinger will be able to lead ASUO government effectively.

Thanks again to all those who contributed time and effort — it was appreciated.

Senior, History Campaign Manager
