

AAUP Officer Speaks Friday

Ross Koen, executive secretary of the Association of California State College Professors, will discuss "Collective Bargaining in Higher Education" at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the annual meeting of the University chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

Chapter officers will be elected for next year at the meeting.

Koen, a political scientist, is currently studying the issue of collective bargaining in higher education. He is also surveying the members of the Association of California State College Professors to determine their attitudes toward collective bargaining.

Members of the University AAUP chapter who wish to attend the meeting should notify Associate Professor of Journalism Galen Rarick, chapter secretary.

Grads Must Apply To Stay Enrolled

It is important that all graduate degree students in residence this year understand the requirement for continuous enrollment. Otherwise some of them may find that they have been dropped from degree programs during periods when they are not on the campus because they have neglected to apply to the graduate school for on-leave status.

If a student knows now that he wishes to be classified under "on-leave" next year, he can obtain a card to apply for this status at the Graduate Center, room 11, Susan Campbell Hall.

On-leave registration is not required for absence during the summer term.

Professor Attends Drama Conference

Horace W. Robinson of the University will attend a conference today through Tuesday in Minneapolis.

Robinson is a professor of speech and theatre and director of the University Theatre.

Such noted figures in professional theatre as director Elia Kazan, producer David Merrick, critic Stanley Kaufman, and Roger L. Stevens, chairman of the National Council of the Arts, will be participants in the five-day conference.
