Women's Liability Cited by Speaker

Charlotte Hubbard, an assistant deputy secretary of state, discussed the role of women in world affairs at the Women's Campus Day luncheon held Wednesday. She spoke of the need for women to become aware of their responsibilities in the community.

"Each woman should become aware of her responsibilities not only as wives and mothers, but as citizens of the community," she said. "Women are not in the background of society—they have been whispering in men's ears for years."

"Women should be willing to make our country," she said. "There are hundreds of women's organizations. Some of these organizations are magnificent and do a great deal to further the causes of the American public."

Cited Ignorance

She spoke of the people's ignorance regarding the slums and stated that these organizations "try to help make the day a little brighter for those who are less fortunate."

"The key to whatever success the American woman has however, is the American male," she said. "An understanding husband and family make it possible for women to play an active part in the community and its affairs."

She stressed that, "our foreign policy is based, and starts, in every American home. We need to look at ourselves to see what our weaknesses are and then be patient people instead of the selfish people that we are."

Peace Corps Nation's Face

The people of the Peace Corps leave a little piece of America behind them and added that the face of our nation, good and bad, is seen all around the world with the instruments of communication.

She said that we have three basic paths that we can follow to help us gain partnership and good understanding in the world today.

"We can build bridges between man and nature, bridges between man and man, women and woman, but lastly, we must build bridges within ourselves. Only a woman who can work with herself can work with other women."

Michigan Students Plan Vote on Draft Referendum

ANN ARBOR, Michigan (CPS)—University of Michigan students may soon vote on the release of their class rankings by the University to the Selective Service System.

Student Government Council President Edward Robinson, in bringing the referendum proposal to the council September 8, said that the vote would give students a voice in deciding whether a local board is justified in using class rank as a criteria for drafting them. The draft question deals solely with students and should be decided by them alone, he stated.

In his own opinion, Robinson said, the draft "causes a distortion of the educational process by forcing students to be more concerned with grades than real educational achievement."

The local chapter of Students for a Democratic Society had collected 1,100 signatures the previous week demanding a referendum.

Robinson would have the results binding on the administration, but Vice-President for Student Affairs Richard L. Cutler indicated that the University would probably not agree to such conditions in advance.

SDS chairman Peter Steinberger stated, however, that if the students stand behind a position to abolish ranking and are willing to apply pressure the University will be forced to go along with their decision.

The referendum, if approved by Michigan Student government, would probably be held in mid-November.

Deans to Ease Registration Problems

Students with registration problems severe enough to unreasonably prolong their stay at the University should consult with the dean of their respective school or college.

All University deans have been requested by Dean of Faculties Harry Alpert to do one of the following things:

- Admit the student to the course in spite of any prior decision by the instructor to close it;
- Waive the particular or departmental requirement which requires the student to take the course; or
- Admit the student to another course deemed equivalent to the other course, in fulfilling the department's requirement.

DEAR REB:

Art student keeps getting the brush-off.

DEAR REB:

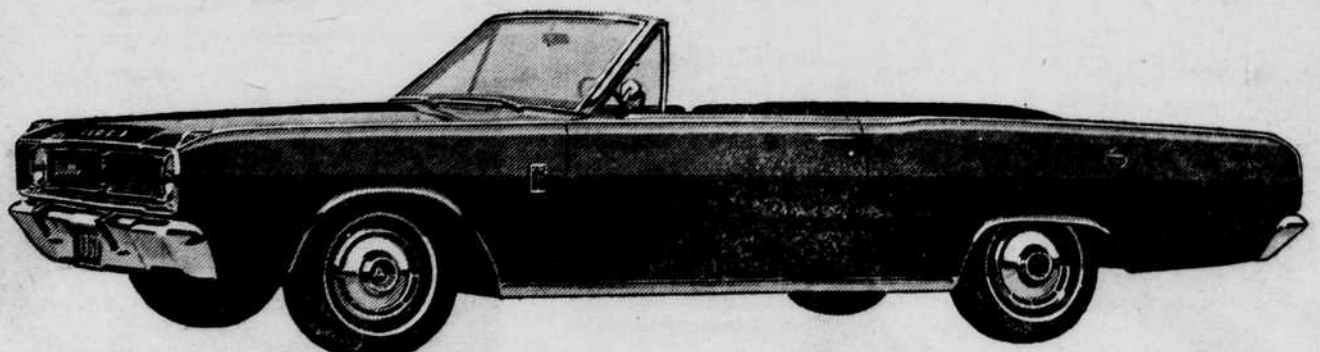

I'm a regular Renoir on the canvas, but on campus I just don't seem to make the scene. There was one campus cutie that used to admire my paintings, but now she's too busy admiring some guy's new Dodge Dart. She says riding in this guy's Dart is like art; every time they go out, they draw a crowd. What can I do? I just have to see this girl again. It's not that I'm in love with her, I haven't finished her portrait yet.

COLOR ME BLUE

DEAR COLOR ME BLUE:

Make your next sitting at your Dodge Dealer's. After you find out how easy it is to own a Dart, you'll be out painting the town. And don't worry about finishing the portrait. With Dart, you'll find you have many models to choose from. Get the picture?

Sincerely, Reb

Here's the picture that's worth a thousand ah's. '67 Dodge Dart GT. Dart gives you more show and go than ever before, and it still has that nice low price. Plus a long list of standard equipment. Like padded instrument panel, padded sun visors, outside rearview mirror, carpeting and so much more.
