

2nd Student Pleads Innocent To Local Narcotics Charge

The second of two University students arrested for illegal possession of narcotics last weekend pleaded innocent to the charge in Lane County Circuit Court Wednesday.

John Frederick Witte, 24, a graduate research assistant in chemistry, entered his plea of not guilty before Judge Edward Leavy. Monday, University student John Michael Hessel also pleaded innocent to the charge of possessing marijuana.

The two will be tried sometime during December, as the county circuit court criminal docket for November has already been filled.

Police arrested Witte last Friday night at Hessel's home at 935 Patterson Street. Hessel was arrested there Saturday morning.

Both have been freed on $500 bail.

According to District Attorney William Frye, the arrests were the result of an investigation by Oregon State police which began after 117 marijuana plants were discovered in the Pleasant Hill area last August.

If found guilty, Hessel and Witte would face a maximum of 10 years imprisonment.

Stadium Seating Bill Heads Senate Action

A bill opposing preferential seating in the University's new Autzen stadium heads the list of business to be discussed at the meeting of the ASUO Senate at 6 p.m. today.

The bill, introduced last week by Senate Campus Planning Committee Chairman Erroll Hammond, was tabled after a lengthy debate over how much say the students should have in determining who would sit where.

It was suggested that Hammond and his committee take the problem to the Athletic Department and try to establish a definite arrangement on student seating, after Senator-at-Large Roger Leo expressed his fear that "we're gonna get stuck on the 20-yard-line."

Also on the agenda for tonight's meeting is final approval of new appointments to the Conduct Court, Student Court, three minor courts, student traffic court, and ten ASUO Committees. Approval was tabled last week after several senators asked for more time to "get to know some of the people better."

Under new business, the Senate will hear a bill endorsing the Freshman Class Council and its constitution. The Council has been established "to serve as a means of communication between the freshman dormitories."

The Senate will also hear and consider a bill opposing the passage of Ballot Measure No. 2 in the November 8 election.

The measure would allow the use of revenues from state auxiliary projects to meet debts on bonds used to finance general purpose projects, and would limit the bonding capacity of the State System of Higher Education.

Another bill, requiring ASUO senators to make visitations to three different living organizations every two weeks, will also be considered. The bill, written by Greg Foote, would set up a rotating schedule of visitations, to permit visitation of different organizations over a period of time.

UT Coupon Books Now on Sale

University Theatre coupons go on sale today, according to Dan McClurg, sales director. The coupons, which cost $8, entitle the holder to see $12 worth of productions.

Six main attractions are scheduled by the theatre plus several studio productions. Opening soon is the play "Dylan." Regular admission to the plays is $1.50 week nights and $2 weekends.

McClurg said the coupon books will be available until October 29. He added that salesmen were needed in the dormitories, and that anyone interested should call him at 345-9740.
