S-F Council Faces Draft Motion Again

For the third time, the Aberle motion to end University accommodation of the draft system will come before the Student-Faculty Council.

It's been tabled at the last two meetings to find out student opinion toward the measure. The ASUO Senate approved part of the proposal Thursday, so the Council will probably add its recommendation today and send the measure back to the faculty which meets Wednesday.

Also up for discussion are two motions to clarify the Council's position in the faculty government.

One is a motion amended at the Council's request by Jack Wilkenson, head of the department of fine arts, that would have the Council report its recommendations on faculty business both to the Faculty Senate and to the general faculty.

The other motion is one brought up at the last meeting by ASUO Vice-President Lee Bollinger. It would give the Council and the ASUO Senate a position similar to the Faculty Senate in regard to faculty motions. In addition, the Council would be allowed to initiate legislation.

The most controversial part of Bollinger's proposal is to give the members of the ASUO Senate a vote in general faculty meetings when legislation affecting students is being considered. Bollinger says this would not prevent the faculty from having separate meetings when handling other business.

Bombers six more points in the final quarter. After taking the pass, Ford got away from two Warriors sprinting 43 yards to the goal line.

Two plays after the kick-off, John "Big Daddy" Watts recovered an Edmonds fumble on the Warrior 22. Daniels then hit Palm who scored for the Bombers.

Both teams tallied with just three minutes left in the game, Edmonds on a pass and Eugene on a 31-yard draw play by Winn. Daniels threw to Dirk Hubbard for the Bombers' first two-point conversion of the game.

The Bombers will host Tacoma at Bethel Park, Sunday.
