

Senate Tables Try For Representation

Editor's Note: Due to space and deadline limitations for Friday's Emerald, not all of the business covered in Thursday's ASUO Senate meeting was printed. This part of the story covers that business.

The ASUO Senate Thursday also heard, and postponed indefinitely, a motion written by Senator-at-large Chuck Stout asking that the University faculty serve notices of motion on any proposal "of concern to the ASUO to come before the general faculty," and that an ASUO senator be admitted to general faculty, and be allowed to express the Senate's position on the proposal.

The bill further provided that the Senate representative be chosen by majority vote of the Senate, and that an additional majority vote could replace him with someone else.

Stout presented a similar bill to the Senate at its November 3 meeting, but objected it after several senators withdrew that it was not specific enough.

Unanimous consent of the bill was asked for, but there was one objection.

Vice-President Lee Bollinger gave up his gavel to comment on the bill. He said that the bill was "going about this wrong." He objected to the "step-by-step" nature of the bill, saying that more long-range, substantial requests should be made of the faculty.

"It becomes a laughing matter, if we ask for one senator (in faculty meetings) now, one a year later, and one a year after that," he said.

"We're only confirming what the faculty says—that we keep asking for one thing after another," he added.

Bollinger got into an exchange with Donahue, who argued that

Senate representation was needed in faculty meetings and that more could be obtained later if desired.

The motion was tabled with the understanding that the Senate's governing committee would work out a more substantial plan of community government, involving students, administration, and faculty together.

The following committee assignments were presented at the Thursday Senate meeting:

- Campus Planning Committee — Erroll Hammond (chairman), Stan Wolf, Bob Winger, Patty Mason, Dan Ellison, and Sparky Petre.

- Fiscal Committee — Dave Clark (chairman), Jay Jacobsmullen, Randy Gragg, Longinus Ewu, Steve Lamb, and Chip McGeath.

- Academic Affairs Committee — Dave McCloskey (chairman), Nancy Holmes, Gary Feuerberg, Roger Leo, Barry Staw, and Greg Johnson.

- Governing Committee — Emily Knupp (chairman), Sue Barton, Kipp Klopp, Ben Bronfman, and John Taylor.

- Public Affairs Committee — Mike Donahue (chairman), Greg Foote, Chuck Stout, and Steve O'Leary.

Absent from Thursday's Senate meeting were: Marvin Feuerberg, Gene Hazel, Barry Staw, Chuck Stout, John Taylor, and Chip Megeath.
