

IEC Features Study Abroad

The campus branch of the Experiment in International Living will hold a coffee hour from 3 to 5 p.m. today in the Student Union.

During the meeting slides taken by past experimenters will be shown and questions about the programs will be answered.

The Experiment in International Living is an independent, non-profit, educational exchange organization enabling students from 18 to 30 to study, travel or participate in work camps in any one of 45 countries of Asia, Europe, Africa, or Latin America.

Every "Experimenter" lives with a family for one month as part of that family. Some Experiment groups require no foreign language, while others require knowledge of the language or enrollment in the intensive language training program conducted by the Experiment.

Prices range from $300 to $1,500 but scholarship and non-interest bearing loans are awarded on a first come first served basis. The basic deadline is the middle of March but the deadline for filing scholarship applications is February 13.

Investigation . . .

Liebeler further said during the conference that the commission's report "should be approached in the true spirit of scholarship," and that he was not afraid of "having our work . . . examined closely, but the task must be approached with an intellectual rigor and honesty which so far is notable by its absence."

Lane said, "I think that what is required now is a new investigation, and a new condition, but one in which the American people will have some trust and some confidence . . ."

"Let's see the evidence against Lee Harvey Oswald as it would have been presented at a trial . . ."

During the debate in San Diego, Lane argued that the commission could have obtained evidence that the President was shot at from the front of his car, not from behind as the report said.

After having established that the shot came from behind, the commission had concluded that the shot had come from a gun found—bearing Oswald's fingerprints—on the sixth floor of the School Book Depository building, above and behind the presidential limousine at the time of the assassination.

Retreat Topic 'New Morality'

The Student Union Forum Committee is sponsoring this year's first academic retreat Saturday at Santiam Lodge.

The topic of discussion will be the "New Morality." The purpose of the retreat is to stimulate discussion among students, faculty, staff, and community citizens at a relaxing site away from campus.

Participation is open to anyone, and the cost is about $5. Transportation and meals will be provided. Signups are being taken in 301 SU.

Departure time from the campus will be at 8 a.m. Saturday and return will be Sunday afternoon.

NSA Delegates Speak to YR's

Chuck Pruitt and Maurie Denner, Young Republicans who both attended the National Students Association Congress, last summer discussed the Congress and what NSA does for students Wednesday night at the Young Republicans meeting.

Denner said that his impressions of the Congress were favorable, while Pruitt said that the Congress was a "demonstration of all that was bad in student government."

Denner said that he saw many future possibilities in NSA programs such as the idea of a National Student Discount Card.

Pruitt, on the other hand, claimed that the Congress was a waste of time and money. He cited this as the reason the University delegation left the convention early.

Denner also stressed the importance of recruiting new members into the Young Republicans next term. Tables will be set outside the Student Union and members will visit the various living organizations.

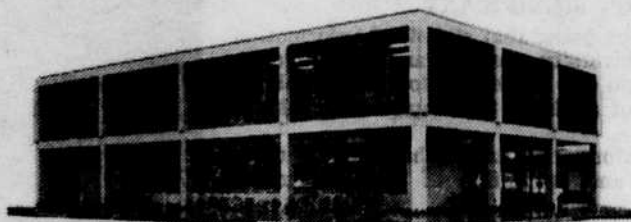

A new kind of bank comes to the Emerald Empire

5% Daily Interest is earned on all Notice Accounts at Oregon Mutual Savings Bank, plus 4% on Regular Savings Accounts. Daily Interest is earned from day of deposit to day of withdrawal and credited quarterly to all open accounts.

Mutual Savings Banking is 150 years old this year, and OMSB is Oregon's only Mutual Savings Bank. There are no stockholders in this kind of bank, so all the bank's earnings, after operating expenses and protective reserves, are paid to depositors in the form of Daily Interest on savings accounts.

35 Years in Portland moved OMSB to a position as Oregon's largest State-chartered bank. OMSB is the fourth largest bank in Oregon. Optimism in the economic future of the Emerald Empire convinced OMSB to open their first branch in Eugene.

Grand Opening will be Friday, December 9th at 1201 Oak Street in Eugene. Free gifts and refreshments will be furnished, with a Grand Prize of an all-expenses paid week for two in Hawaii. Visit the Grand Opening and fill out an entry blank to win the Hawaiian vacation.
