

Student Bus Service Needs More Riders

The new ASUO bus service for married students in Amazon and Westmoreland Housing Projects is being continued until this Friday.

The service, originally slated to be run through today, is being continued for the remainder of the week to try and stimulate more student interest, according to Scott Farleigh, co-director of the program.

The bus picks up passengers at 25 minutes past each hour at Westmoreland and at 25 minutes before each hour at Amazon, beginning at 7:25 a.m. and running until 5:05 p.m. each day.

The bus makes the return trip from the SU turnaround at 5 minutes past each hour.

Fare per person is 10 cents. Farleigh said more passengers are needed if the service is to be continued winter term, as the program is running a deficit.

Ours just did when we were trying to think of a clever way to tell you girls to come down to our store, Ellingsworth's, and choose from our select line of Christmas gifts for men.
