of the motion are in agreement and he is able to speak for them also, Aberle added.

• The third item of business is a motion by Jack Wilkinson, head of the department of fine and applied arts, concerning the relations of the Student-Faculty Council to the Faculty Senate.

Wilkinson first gave notice of his proposal last spring, then in October asked to have it delayed a month. But since the November faculty meeting dealt only with the Aberle proposal, Wilkinson's motion is now on the December agenda.

• The fifth item on the agenda is discussion of Alpert's motion, which concerns the "proposed establishment of a faculty committee for educational experimentation, innovation, and improvement." It would include "grants and other functions aimed at improving the quality of instruction and research at the University.

Since the ASUO evaluation project has been under informal faculty consideration for some time now, it is possible that the order of business may be changed to place it second or third on the agenda.

'TIS THE SEASON TO BE JOLLY

I know how busy you are—studying, going to class, helping old grads find their dentures after Homecoming—but, hark, the Yuletide is almost upon us and it's time we turned our thoughts to Christmas shopping.

We'll start with the hardest gift problem of all: what to give the man who has everything. Well sir, here are some things I'll bet he doesn't have: 1) A dentist's chair. 2) A Mach number. 3) A street map of Perth, Australia. 4) Fifty pounds of chicken fat. 5) A pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades.

"What?" you exclaim, your eyebrows leaping in wild incredulity. "The man who has everything doesn't have Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades? What arrant nonsense!" you scoff, making a coarse gesture.

But I insist. The man who has everything doesn't have Personna because everyone in the dorm is always borrowing them. And small wonder! Wouldn't you be there with an empty razor and a supplicating sidle if you heard somebody had super-blades that were super-sharp and super-durable; that scrape not, neither do they nick; that shave you easily and breezily, quickly and slickly, scratchlessly and matchlessly; that come both in Double-Edge style and Injector style? Of course you would!

So here is our first gift suggestion. If you know a man who shaves with Personna, give him a safe.

Next let us take up the thorny problem of buying gifts when you have no money. Well sir, there are many wonderful gifts which cost hardly anything. A bottle of good clear water, for example, is always welcome. A nice smooth rock makes a charming paperweight. In fact, one Christmas back in my own college days, these are exactly the gifts I gave a beauteous coed named Norma Glebe. I took a rock, a bottle of water, a bit of ribbon, and attached a card with this tender sentiment:

*Here's some water
And here's a rock.
I love you, daughter,
Around the clock.*

Norma was so moved, she seized the rock, smashed the bottle, and plunged the jagged edge into my sternum.

Here now is a lovely gift for an American History major—a bronze statuette of Millard Fillmore with a clock in the stomach. (Mr. Fillmore, incidentally, was the only American president with a clock in his stomach. James K. Polk had a stem-winder in his head and William Henry Harrison chimed the quarter-hour, but only Mr. Fillmore of all our chief executives had a clock in his stomach. Franklin Pierce had a sweep second hand and Zachary Taylor had 17 jewels and Martin Van Buren ticked but, I repeat, Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Fillmore alone had a clock in his stomach. Moreover, Mr. Fillmore was the first president with power steering. No wonder they called him "Old Hickory!")

But I digress. Returning to Christmas gifts, here's one that's sure to please—a gift certificate from the American Society of Chiropractors. Accompanying each certificate is this fetching little poem:

*Merry Christmas, Happy New Year,
Joyous sacro-iliac!
May your spine forever shine,
Blessings on your aching back!
May your lumbar ne'er grow number,
May your backbone ne'er dislodge,
May your caudal never dawdle,
Joyeux Noel! Heureux massage!*

And greetings of the season from the makers of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, Double-Edge or Injector, and from Personna's partner in shaving luxury, Burma-Shave, regular or menthol.

KWAX Positions Open for Winter

Students desiring positions on KWAX for winter term should contact Victor M. Webb, station manager in room 351 Villard Hall.

Positions for newswriters and reporters, public relations persons and announcers are available.

In order to announce, a third class broadcaster's license is required and the examination for this license is offered weekly on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at the Portland court house. Information on examination material can be obtained from personnel at the KWAX studios.

KWAX is the University FM radio station and offers students an opportunity for experience in broadcast operations.

KWAX will terminate its broadcasting on Friday for the present term and will resume its regular schedule on Monday, January 9.

Lyric Interpretation

Ronald Taylor, British authority on the Middle Ages and the Germanic languages, will give an interpretive performance of "The Medieval Love Lyric" at 8 p.m.

Scheduled for SU

Thursday in the Student Union.

Taylor is the holder of the chair of German at the University of Sussex in Brighton, England.
