

SDS Teach-in To Greet Dow

Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) will hold a teach-in at noon today on the EMU terrace.

"The Successor to I. G. Farbin-Dow," will be their topic of discussion. A demonstration of Saran wrap and two other combustible products will also be given.

A recruiter for the Dow Chemical Company will be in the job placement center today and SDS has said they have challenged him to speak.

However, Eugene Dils of the placement center said Tuesday he did not think the representative will accept a challenge.

If trouble is expected on a campus the Dow Company sends Jack Jones, a public relations man from San Francisco to speak, Dils said.

He said Dow asked if a public relations man would be needed, but that one was not requested.

Dils said that if SDS had asked Jones to speak, he would have come. A challenge to speak "would be a surprise to the recruiter," said Dils.

At 6 p.m. today SDS will be holding a meeting in Commonwealth Hall to make plans for Vice-President Humphrey's visit to Eugene during this term. They will also discuss increasing campus political action and a peace trip.
