Future

"CAN YOU PREPARE for the Law School Admission Test?" will be discussed by the Pre-Law Society 7:30 Tuesday, in the EMU. Any interested student is invited.

A RECITAL of music for cello and piano will be presented by University professors Robert Hladky and William Woods, at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the School of Music Recital Hall. The public is invited free of charge.

"37 IN OREGON," an invitational exhibition featuring the works of Oregon artists will be on display at the University Museum of Art from Jan. 30 to March 3.

The exhibition is being shown in conjunction with the campus-wide Festival of Arts which focuses on the theme of "The New Art."

A preview reception of the exhibit will be held in the Museum of Art from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. Tuesday, to enable the public to meet the artists.

The show will be juried, and cash prizes will be awarded.

THE GRATEFUL DEAD and the Quicksilver Messenger Service perform at the SDS annual Peace Dance from 8:00 to 12:00 p.m. Tuesday in the EMU ballroom. A light show will be provided by the Headlights. Tickets are available at the SDS table on the EMU Terrace.

YOUNG AMERICANS for Freedom will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the EMU. Lynn Bouche, former Washington state Young Americans for Freedom chairman, will speak.

Bouche, who once traveled as a public relations director for National YAF, will discuss philosophical differences among conservatives.

THE PHOTOGRAPHY at Oregon Gallery opens Tuesday at the University's Museum of Art. It is an exhibition of photographs by University of Nebraska photography instructor, Michael McLoughlin. The show will remain on display through the month of February.

SIX LOCAL POETS will be featured in a poetry reading in conjunction with the Festival of Arts, January 22 to February 24 at the University.

The reading will provide another dimension of experience for the Festival's theme of "The New Art."

Poets Paula Brown, John Quinn, Ralph Salisbury, Bill Sweet, Ingrid Wendt, and Patricia Whalen will read from their own works in the Thrope Room of the Museum of Art at 8:30 p.m., Tuesday.

The event will be broadcast over the University's student radio station, KWAX, at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

A COLLECTIVE bargaining approach to graduate student organization will be explored during an informal seminar at the University Tuesday.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS meet at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday in the EMU to discuss the State College League Convention, the Dorchester IV Conference, primary election campaigns and the University mock Republican Convention.

Mostly General

THE TEACHING Assistant Awards Committee of the ASUO is asking for nominations for four $250 cash grants to be awarded for outstanding ability at the teaching assistant level. Nominations will be accepted from any student, faculty member or teaching assistant and are being distributed by department heads, living organizations, or through Room 310, Erb Memorial Union.

Student Expelled For No Shoes

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP) — Robert Nighswonger has been expelled from Fullerton Junior College because he refuses to wear shoes, but he says he'll insist on attending classes.

College trustees acted because he ignored an order to wear shoes on campus.

The 25-year-old art student showed the trustees a letter from a physician saying that if Nighswonger wore shoes, a neurological disorder affecting his toes would prevent his walking without a cane or crutches.

PATRONIZE YOUR ADVERTISERS

Any graduate student who is pursuing an advanced degree and charged with part-time classroom instruction while not holding faculty rank is eligible. Nominations must be submitted to the ASUO office, Room 310, EMU, by Friday, February 23.

Petitions

SPRING PROM committee openings and co-chairman petitions are now available outside Room 301 EMU. Positions are being accepted for decorations, finance, hospitality, publicity, chaperones and technical committees. Petitioning ends at 5 p.m. Tuesday. For further information contact Sandy Wesley at ext. 318.

RALLY BOARD is taking petitions this week in 301 EMU for the newly formed Rally Committee. This committee will plan and assemble the 600 student card section for next year's football games.

FRESHMEN and sophomores: Now is the time to get practical experience, while you can also help to provide for the education of those people in economically starved countries. Help them get out of a rut. World University Service week is dedicated to this idea. You can play an active role in this worthwhile cause. Pick up your application for a WUS committee on the third floor EMU.

GATEKEEPERS are needed for the OCSC ski meet, hosted by Oregon at Mt. Bachelor on Feb. 3 and 4. Both skiers and non-skiers can apply. Sign up for this activity through Chris Karp in 309 EMU.

THE DEADLINE for applications to participate in the University's advanced study French Institute to be held in Tours, France, June 18 to Aug. 19, 1968, is March 17.

The nine-week Institute will enable 72 secondary school teachers of French to conduct advanced study in the fields of culture, linguistics, and methodology while gaining first-hand acquaintance with the French way of life and with France itself. There will also be intensive instruction of the use of the modern language, both oral and written.

Anti-Draft Leaders Held on Conspiracy

BERKELEY, Calif. (CPS) — Seven anti-draft leaders from Berkeley were indicted by an Alameda grand jury today for an alleged conspiracy to violate state laws during Stop The Draft Week last October.

The indictments followed an investigation of the demonstrations that took place at the Oakland induction center in October. The seven are charged with conspiracy to commit trespass, to obstruct the police and to disturb the peace, according to Alameda County District Attorney F. Frank Coakley.

Coakley said, "We had to have sufficient competent testimony and eye-witness accounts, and such things as bank accounts, to effect the indictments."

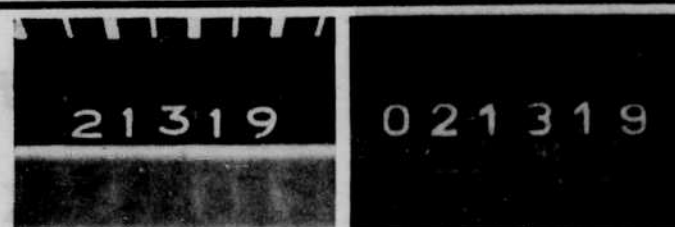

He added that "conspiracy under California law is a felony and is punishable by imprisonment in a state prison like San Quentin, for up to three years, even though the overt acts they conspired to commit were only misdemeanors."

Among those indicted were Steve Hamilton and Mike Smith, both of whom were leaders in the Free Speech Movement in 1964. Also named was Reese Erlich, who was one of the students suspended from the University of California at Berkeley for his part in Stop The Draft Week rallies held on the campus.

One of the seven, Frank Baracke, a graduate student at U. C. Berkeley, said after learning of his indictment, "Our only response should be that we continue to do our anti-war work, step it up and make the next Anti-Draft Week bigger and better."

The presiding judge at the grand jury's hearing set bail for the seven at $5,000 each.
