

McCarthy . . .

The forces of President Johnson have tried to gather student volunteers but it is obvious that the student support all belongs to McCarthy. The Democratic National Committee provided free buses for any Young Democrats from the Chicago area to go campaign for the President but only a few took them up on the offer.

It is not only as volunteers that students are having an impact on the campaign. University of Wisconsin students shouted down a speech by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman last week, which many believed would cause adverse reaction to McCarthy among the voters.

McCarthy said: "students for McCarthy are not hecklers. They have listened and studied and are still ready to stand and listen to anyone who comes in good faith."

But Wisconsin student leaders believe the Johnson forces are trying to encourage such demonstrations.

French Acting Group Presents 'La Tartuffe'

The famous French comedy "La Tartuffe" will be performed here today by the French touring company, Le Treteau de Paris.

The play, one of Moliere's most famous comedies, is scheduled for 3 and 8 p.m. at the University Theatre.

Le Treteau de Paris is the company of French actors and actresses which has brought French theatre to North American cities for the past 10 years.

The troupe presents "La Tartuffe" with the style and tradition of the French theatre handed down since the play was first produced during the reign of Louis XVI.

The cast includes Yves Gasc, familiar to Treteau audiences for his performances last season in "Les Femmes Savantes," and Giselle Touret and Marcelle Ransom, also Treteau veterans.

"La Tartuffe" will be presented in French, but is expected to be enjoyable even for persons who do not speak French.

Awarded Architect Scheduled to Speak

Charles Moore, who has won many national awards for his architectural designs, will present a lecture entitled "Form and Metaform" at 8 tonight in 123 Science.

Informal discussion will follow at the graduate architectural shelter north of Franklin Boulevard.

He will show the work of his firm at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in 106 Lawrence Hall.

Moore, who is chairman of the department of architecture at Yale University, has won awards for numerous residences and the condominium at Sea Ranch near San Francisco. Nearby, his firm designed the shelter at Portland South Park Plaza.

Campus Happenings

Today

THE ANNUAL World University Service Week begins today. The senior class has set $5,000 as the goal for this year's fund-raising activities. Donations can be made through individual living organizations or on the terrace of the EMU.

Future

DAVID RUBERG, University music student, will be presented in a student recital Tuesday by the School of Music.

Ruberg will present his concert of organ music at 12 noon in the Central Lutheran church, 1857 Potter Street.

His program will include Bach's "Sonata No. 5 in C Major, S. 520"; Franck's "Prelude, Fugue, Variation" and "Litanies" by Jehan Alain.

"THE BAHAMAS From Top to Bottom," a film both above and in the semi-tropical seas, will be shown Tuesday at the University.

The "World Around Us" film-lecture program will be at 8 p.m. in 150 Science with admission either by season ticket or individual ticket at the door.

Noted oceanographer and photographer Harry Pederson will give the lecture. Much of Pederson's film footage has already been seen in motion pictures such as "The Sea Around Us," "Hunters of the Deep," and "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea."

Mostly General

INTERNATIONAL Festival tickets are now on sale at locations at the University and at downtown businesses in Eugene and Springfield.

Mattox Pipe Shop and Bronson Travel Agency in Eugene, the Vern Meyer Insurance Agency in Springfield and the main desk at the EMU have tickets for sale for the performances of this fifth annual University festival.

The four-day International Festival this year will open Wednesday, April 10, with a bazaar, displays and stage productions.

Petitions

KWAMA PETITIONS are now available on the third floor of EMU for freshman women. Members are chosen according to scholarship and activities, and will be announced Mothers' Weekend. Petitions are due

April 19 at 5 p.m. Questions may be directed to Mrs. Nasler, ext. 1631.

INTERESTED STUDENTS wanting to do volunteer work in Tutoring, Community Action, Migrant Labor, or secretarial work come to 313 EMU Tuesday for an interview. Interviews will last approximately 15 minutes between 11:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.
