conduct of the Secretary of State before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the Administration's forced references to inapposite precedents of World War II and Korea—this has made for a feeling of frustration, a feeling of hopelessness.

I write today because there is an opportunity for change. Today the candidacy of Senator Eugene McCarthy is the vehicle for such change. The New Hampshire, as will Wisconsin, primary has shown that the quest is more than merely quixotic. The task of denying the nomination to an incumbent President is indeed difficult, but it can be done.

Stop for one moment and assess for your conscience if you can remain silent. If you cannot, contact the McCarthy for President Headquarters at 701 High Street, or call 342-5821.
