

'Things Look Good'

Cindermen at StanfordBy PAUL POLSKY

"This is the first meet we've gone into this year where things have looked good," said Bill Dellinger, Oregon's assistant track coach. "But that doesn't mean we'll win."

Dellinger was referring to this weekend's dual track and field meet with the Stanford Indians in Palo Alto, Calif.

The Ducks and the Big Red will renew a nine meet rivalry which dates back to 1925.

Stanford won the first two meets in '25 and '26 but Oregon has swept the last seven in a row following a 33 year lay-off in competition between the two institutions.

This year's meet shapes up as a fairly even match although each team will be strong in several events and weak in others.

Oregon's strength lies in the middle and distance events. Stanford has the upper hand in the jumping events, the 440, and the javelin.

Oregon will be without the services of three regulars this weekend. They are distance men Dave Wilborn and Arne Kvalheim, plus 880 man Jere Van Dyk.

Wilborn and Kvalheim have been given a week off from competition to undergo high altitude training at Odell Lake atop Wilamette Pass.

Van Dyk is out again with a sprained foot. "His foot is very sore, but not broken," Dellinger added.

Sophomore sprinter Frank Marlatt will miss the meet in Stanford's 75,000 seat stadium with a pulled leg muscle.

However, Dellinger was not dismayed over the prospect of facing Stanford without Kvalheim, Wilborn and Van Dyk.

"We have a lot of good distance runners. This situation will give Wilborn and Kvalheim a rest and allow some other good runners a chance to compete," he said.

Oregon will send Mike Crunican, Scott Taylor and a recovered Jim Reverman in the 880.

In the mile, Norm Trerise, Terry Dooley and Jim Gorman will carry the load.

Lambda Chi Takes Swim Meet

Lambda Chi Alpha captured the IM swimming team title and set two new records in the finals held April 24 in Leighton Pool.

Lambda Chi scored 42 points to edge the River Rats with 40. Sigma Phi Epsilon tallied 34 for third followed by PiKA 24, ATO 18, SAE 17 and the Independents 14. Eleven other living units participated in the meet.

Ray Messner of Lambda Chi Alpha set a new mark of 59.6 in the 100-yard butterfly event. The old record was 1:00.0 set in 1962. Messner was also on the winning relay team which set another record. Lambda Chi's 220-yard freestyle relay quad was clocked in 1:38.8. The former standard was 1:41.2 set in 1962.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, runner-up for the team title, established a new mark in the 220 medley relay. Their 1:53.9 time beat the 1964 mark by 2.6 seconds.

The two-mile has been removed in favor of the three-mile in all PAC meets this weekend. John Woodward, Hal Jackson and Tom Morrow will run for Oregon.

Dellinger predicted good competition in several events.

"The sprints should be pretty good," he commented. "Neither team has anybody outstanding, so it could prove a real test."

Looking at the personnel, Stanford boasts Roger Cox a 9.6 sprinter and a pair of 9.8 men in Jim Donart and Andy Sears. Oregon will counter with Mike Diebele.

In the 440, Oregon's Ron Couser will have his hands full with Stanford's Jim Ward, a proven veteran. Ward has a lifetime best of 47.0 and has run 47.8 this season.

Stanford has no one near challenging in the 880 where Mike Jacobs is the leading runner with a 1:52.0 lifetime best.

In the hurdle events the Indians will have to contend with Bob Blum and Gary Knoke of the Ducks. Bill Griffith and Tom Kammers are Stanford's entrants with 14.3 and 14.5 bests.

Jerry Porter, Dick Warwick and Tom Colby give Stanford a fine trio of javlin throwers. All of them have been over 200 feet this year and the competition here should be first rate with Oregon's Bruce Frazier, Jim O'Donnel and Sagle.

Australian Peter Boyce has jumped 7-3 in the high jump this year and Dave Harper and Tom Massey have cleared 6-8. This is one of Stanford's stronger events.

Craig Vaughn of the Indians and Tommy Smith of Oregon have both been over 24-6 this year in the long jump.

The pole vault could be close with Stanford's Clint Ostrander, a 15-6 competitor, and Bob Varley of Oregon, 16-2½, challenging for first place.
