

Beavers Edge Duck Runners

A couple of points here and a couple more there would have done it, but the upset-minded Oregon track team couldn't quite put everything together Saturday and had their string of consecutive Northern Division Track Championships snapped at 14 by Oregon State.

Final score was 84-81, with Washington State not far back at 71 and Washington, struck by a series of injuries throughout the dual meet season, fourth with 32.

Seven meet records were broken and another tied in a meet that saw great performances in three events.

Kvalheim Beaten

The one everyone came to see was the rematch duel between Oregon's Arne Kvalheim and WSU's Gerry Lindgren. Kvalheim set a national collegiate record three weeks ago in Eugene when he defeated the "Spokane Sparrow" in the two-mile, but this time the pair were going in the event Lindgren holds the national collegiate record in—the three-mile. Kvalheim stayed with Lindgren until the final stretch, but the Cougar pulled away and won.

Kvalheim was limping after his performance — he finished in a school record 13:19.1 to Lindgren's 13:16.3 (Lindgren's best is 12:53.0) — and complained of suffering a cramp in his leg with two laps remaining. "I knew it was all over then," he said.

Oregon's John Woodward and Tom Morrow were third and fourth in 13:48.5 and 13:56.8.

Other outstanding showings were turned in by WSU's Foss Miller, who heaved the javelin 248 feet, 11 inches, and by a pair of discus throwers, Washington State's big John Van Reenan and OSU's Tim Vollmer. Van Reenan, a strong South African, had to get off a lifetime best of 198-5 to beat Vollmer, who set an Oregon State record of 197-10.

Ducks Win Six Events

Oregon wins came from Tom Smith in the long jump, Bob Varley in the pole vault, Dave Wilborn in the mile, Bob Blum in the 120 high hurdles, Gary Knoke in the 440 intermediate hurdles, and the Webfoot mile relay team. Wilborn's 4:02.3 and Knoke's 51.2 were meet records.

Smith leaped 24-5 3/4 to take his specialty, 1 1/2 inches better than second place Bill Henry of WSU.

Varley topped Beaver star

Dennis Phillips for the second straight week, clearing 16 feet. Mike Chaney was third with a vault of 15 feet.

Wilborn led a 1-2-3 Duck sweep in the mile. Norm Treise (4:05.1) and Terry Dooley (4:05.4) both ran lifetime bests.

The Ducks placed 1-3-4 in the high hurdles as Blum ran 14.0 to edge OSU's Don Parish, who was given the same time. Knoke was third in 14.1, and sophomore Myron Johnson ran a lifetime best 14.2.

Knoke's intermediate hurdles times was six-tenths of a second better than Tom Strathairn of Washington or Boyd Gittins of WSU. Johnson placed fifth in 53.2.

The mile relay team picked up five points after the Beavers had already clinched the title, with Mike Debele, Jim Reverman, Knoke and Ron Couser timed in 3:14.0.

Possibly the biggest Oregon downfall was the 3000-meter steeplechase, when the Ducks, favored to take 1-2-3, could get only 3-4-5. Washington's John Celms won in a meet record 8:58.9, and was followed by WSU's Rod Dahl. Geoff Hollister was third in 9:09.7, Cedric Wedemire fourth in 9:11.5, and Jim Gorman fifth in 9:19.8.

Thompson Wins 880

In the 880, Jim Reverman was beaten by the man he beat in Eugene a week earlier. Terry Thompson of OSU burst ahead on the stretch, and won in 1:49.5. Reverman was second in 1:51.1, and Mike Crunican third in 1:51.2.

"I'm more tired today with a slow time than I was last week," Reverman said. "It's just hard to get high mentally two weeks in a row. I think I'll be ready for next week's PAC meet."

Jim Sagle tossed the javelin a lifetime best 223-10 for fourth place. Bruce Schneider and Gary Bricher placed in other weight events, with Schneider fifth in shot put at 53-8 and Bricher fifth in discus at 163-6.

Ron Couser was fourth in the 440 in 48.1. OSU's Rod Paul tied the met record of 46.9, half a second better than he had ever run before. Teammate Greg Marks ran a 47.1.

Mike Debele was fourth in the 100 at 9.7 and fifth in the 220 at 21.5, while Willie Turner of OSU won both in 9.6 and 20.9, with teammate Ernie Smith close behind in both. Turner and Smith also led the Beavers to a 40.1 second romp in the 440 relay, as the Ducks were fourth in 42.6.

UCLA Tops Tennis; Oregon Lasses Fall

UCLA won the AAWU women's tennis championships at Eugene Saturday, edging Stanford by a single point.

Oregon finished in a sixth place tie, as only one Duck netter—Irna Trommlitz in singles — was able to reach the consolation final round. Miss Trommlitz lost to Washington's Ann Gillespie to eliminate her from competition. All other Duck entrants were eliminated Friday.

Final scores were UCLA 18, Stanford 17, California 6, Oregon State 5, USC 4, Oregon and Washington State 1, and Washington 0.

Pacific-Eight champions are Betty Ann Grubb of UCLA, who defeated teammate Pixie Lamm 4-6, 6-2, 6-1 in the finals, and Stanford's doubles team of Anne Kerwein and Martha Downing, who also had to defeat teammates to win.

Consolation winners were California's Jill Boornazian in singles and USC's Evan Hsu-Sue Semple in doubles.

The Northern Division champion Oregon golf team won another match Friday, defeating Oregon State 15 1/2-11 1/2 to up their record to 8-2 for the season.

Playing the newly-remodeled and extremely difficult 6,820-yard, par 72 Eugene Country Club, the top three Duck golfers faltered somewhat off their averages, but the bottom three brought the team through.

In preparation for this weekend's PAC Championships, Mike Davis shot an 80, Mike Currie 86 and Gay Davis an unusual 40-37-76. Scott Smith had an 80, sophomore Fred Haney also an 80, and Dave Leiken a steady 38-38-76.

The winner of the match was still in doubt with only the last two Oregon players on the course, but Leiken and Haney made their par putts on the last hole to insure victory for the Ducks. After the match, coach Jack Adler commented, "I wish they wouldn't do this to me. They always wait until the last hole to win it."

This weekend Oregon travels to Los Angeles to challenge favored Stanford and USC in the PAC Championships. "We're going down with the idea of winning," Adler said.

Netters Dumped By Irvington TC

Jerry Shaw was the only Oregon netter to win as the Duck tennis team dropped a 6-1 decision to Irvington Tennis Club in Portland Saturday.

Oregon's Dale Morse lost to Clyde Knox in a marathon, 2-6, 6-1, 21-19, then came back and lost a three-set doubles match.

Oregon's number one man, Gundars Tilmanis, was not able to play because of an ankle injury. He should be ready for the Pacific-Eight championships, to be played beginning Thursday at Washington State.

One of Mother Nature's loveliest shapes, translated into sparkling diamond engagement rings. Their charm lies in the fact that they have all of the brilliance of the round-cut, plus the grace and the glitter of the marquise. They are particularly becoming to slender, tapering fingers.
