

Symposium Features Discussions

Panel discussions and movies will mark the second day of the three-day draft resistance symposium.

David Harris, former Stanford student body president, opened the symposium Wednesday evening with a discussion of the draft resistance movement and its implications for American society.

Panel discussions from 1 to 4 p.m. in the EMU ballroom will cover the topics "Why Resist?", "Building a New Community," "Non-violent Revolution" and "The Activity of the Eugene Resistance Community."

At 8 p.m. tonight in the EMU ballroom, the following movies will be shown at a cost of 50 cents: "Sons and Daughters," "Vietnam Dialogue," and "The Boston Draft Resistance."

Friday a concert in Mac Court at 8 p.m. by Joan Baez will end the three-day symposium.

Another opponent of the draft, the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, will be on campus Oct. 18 for a conference on the Church and Civil Obedience.

Father Berrigan, who calls himself a hippie priest, and his brother, Father Philip Berrigan, have been accused of raiding draft board quarters in Catonsville, Md., and of burning records obtained there.

W. E. EATON objected to University facilities being used by a "revolutionary" and screamed "jail for Harris" from a corner of the EMU Ballroom at Wednesday night's draft symposium. The "revolutionary" was pacifist, non-violence advocate Dave Harris.
