

Recreation Problems Draw Parks Congress

The relationship of parks and recreation to major domestic issues was the focal point of the 1968 Congress for Recreation and Parks, held last week at the Seattle Center in Seattle.

"Under the theme 'Crisis, Challenge, Change,' students and faculty member from the Department of Recreation and Park Management discussed such topics as the loss of municipal park space, urban unrest, air and water pollution, personnel shortages and innovations in technical and administrative practices.

Lynn Rodney, head of the University Department of Recreation and Park Management, was program chairman of the Congress. Other faculty members attending the Congress were Charles Reich, Phyllis Ford, Larry Decker, William Sparks and Robert Haworth.

The largest convention of its kind in the United States, the Congress attracted over 5,000 kind in the United States, the persons concerned with many aspects of parks, recreation and conservation. The five-day meeting was sponsored by the National Recreation and Park Association.

Principal speakers were Eric Hoffer, longshoreman-philosopher and member of the President's Study Commission on Violence; Whitney Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League and a civil rights leader; and Myrtle Reul, University of Georgia sociologist and authority on rural poverty.

Comedian Pat Paulsen, the Serendipity Singers, and a special cruise of the Seattle super-ferry on Puget Sound headed a list of entertainment at the Congress.

ASUO Sponsors 'Time-Out' Day

"Time Out," a day to offer University students a chance to get acquainted with various programs on campus, has been planned by the ASUO.

The date is set for Oct. 29. It is also a National Student Association day.

The goal of "Time-Out" day, according to ASUO president Dick Jones, is to increase awareness and understanding on the part of the student toward opposing interests.

"Time-Out" day offers University students an opportunity to bring together opposing factions and ask any questions they might have.

The different agencies of the Program Council have scheduled cultural, educational, social and entertaining programs for that day.

Detailed information concerning this day will appear in the Emerald later this week.

Sigma Alpha Mu Organizes Group

Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity, which received final approval to colonize from the Interfraternity Council last Wednesday, will hold an organizational meeting tonight, at 9:00 p.m., 300 East 18th, apartment 8.

National field secretary for SAM, Jim Peterson, will be present to answer questions.

SAM had a well-established chapter at the university for more than 30 years until membership and financial problems caused the fraternity to close its doors about 8 years ago.

Sigma Alpha Mu is a national fraternity with chapters and colonies on 75 campuses in the United States and Canada. Nearby chapters include Portland State College and the University of Washington.

KWAX Format Draws DJ Fire

Broadcast majors will continue to appeal to the public for support in the controversy over the new format for radio station KWAX, according to Lee Wood, spokesman for the group.

In a statement released today, the disc-jockies called upon program officials to reconsider the new broadcast format which eliminates "middle-of-the-road" or popular music from the program schedule.

"As broadcasting majors we feel that the abolishment of 'disc jockey' shows with this type of music is a great loss," said the statement, "We cannot complain about the goals of the new format. KWAX is a non-commercial station that should provide some alternative to commercial stations.

"But, without any program - ming similar to commercial stations, KWAX has lost its instructional value to us. It no longer provides the training ground that a station in its position should."

The broadcast group is hoping public pressure will force adviser Bill Wallingham to re-appraise the value of the new format.

"We do not want to go over heads to get our way," said Wood. "We don't want to make enemies."

The new format schedules classical music nightly between 6 and 9 p.m.; special programs from 9 to 10 p.m. and progressive music, (folk rock) beginning at 10 p.m.

Middle-of-the-road music occupied a 3 to 6 p.m. shift until recently.
