

OREGON'S FRED CARDWELL FIRES TO CAL BATTER
Webfoot righthander pitched team to win over Bears

At Oregon Club

Maurer feted

Andy Maurer, senior tight end on the Oregon football team, has been named the recipient of the annual $500 Blitz-Weinhard scholarship. The announcement was made at the weekly Oregon Club luncheon by Dick Rousche, area vice-president.

"This is the most exciting group of kids we've ever had," said Assistant Football Coach John Robinson. "Last Saturday we had the best offensive day in many years at Oregon." Saturday the squad will close its spring training with a full scrimmage on the practice football field, beginning at 10 a.m.

Track mentor Bill Bowerman reported that in last weekend's winning Northern Division contest "we've never had a better all-around performance."

In discussing the Pac-8 championships in Corvallis Saturday, Bowerman said that it should be "the best conference meet we've ever had." As far as pre-meet favorites, he conceded that Southern Cal and Oregon State "have to be the favorites."

Golf coach Jack Adler said that he is "really looking forward to the future . . . we should have a really fine golf power." Adler commented that he has some real top players coming up from the freshman squad with help from sophomore Jack Sheehan and transfer Dave Glenz.

The Webfoot tennis team has just completed their second straight year at home with an undefeated record, and is looking forward to the upcoming league championships according to coach Buzz Summers.

Oregon wrestler takes AAU first

Gary West, most valuable wrestler for the Oregon Frosh last winter, took first place at 163 pounds in the National AAU Greco-Roman Tournament held Friday and Saturday.

West recorded four falls while winning five matches and losing only one in the Detroit, Mich. meet. His only loss was to Lee Ehrler, U.S. Army, who was a Pac-8 champion in 1967.

The Webfoot grappler also won the trophy for the most falls in the least time. West pinned four opponents in 9:36.

Action fast and furious as Ducks split twin bill

By JOHN ANDERSON

Jim Van Wyck's sixth-inning double capped a four-run Oregon rally at Howe Field Monday, as the Ducks snapped a seven-game losing streak and handed visiting California a 4-3 loss in the opening game of a Pacific-8 doubleheader.

Cal came back in the second game fiasco to claim a 10-9 win in what was probably the wildest college game on the Pacific Coast this year.

The Bears scored three unearned runs off Oregon starter and winner Fred Cardwell, now 4-3, in the fourth inning of the first game. Two walks and a dropped fly ball by usually reliable Phil Bushman loaded the bases with one out. Losing pitcher Bill Schofield launched a two-run single up the middle, then Dennis Dalton's fielder's choice brought home the inning's third run.

But the Ducks, who left only one runner on base through the first five innings, put together four hits in the sixth to take the win.

Webfoots rally

A walk to pinch-hitter Dave Johnson and single by Earle Wicklund put men at first and third with one out. Bushman, who had four hits in the doubleheader to raise his Pacific-8 batting average to .407, hit a high bouncer to the pitcher's mound, and Schofield's throw to first was too late to get the Duck speedster flying down the line. Then, with two out, Colby Howe drilled a two-run single to center. A stolen base by pinch-runner Bob Main and intentional walk to Bill Lawrence set the stage for Van Wyck's game-winning double.

Gary Schutz set the Bears down in order in the seventh to save the win for Cardwell.

The second contest was a scorekeeper's nightmare. There

The Oregon Ducks close their current six-game home stand against the California Pacific-8 teams today with a 1:30 p.m. single game against Stanford at Howe Field. Jon Wheeler (5-2) is scheduled to be on the mound for the Ducks.

Stanford, still tied for the lead in Pacific-8 play with a 13-4 mark, is paced by All-American first baseman Mark Marquess, outfielder Jack Hodges, and third baseman-pitcher Bob Boone. Boone or Rod Poteete is the Indians' probable pitcher today.

were four ties and five lead changes in a clash that saw 19 runs, 25 hits, six errors, 21 bases on balls, four home runs, five other extra base hits, 24 runners left on base, and innumerable costly Oregon base-running errors.

The Ducks picked up a first-inning tally when Cal starter Greg Tellis balked, after a ground rule double by Bushman spaced between two walks had loaded the bases. Dave Texdahl's solo homer tied the game in the second, and Cal jumped ahead in the third on a two-out error and Jim Corcoran's triple.

Ducks bounce back

But Oregon staged a two-out third-inning rally to leap ahead 4-2 and drive Tellis from the mound. Singles by Van Wyck and Bob Ossey, two Cal errors, a double by Dave Dingman and a single by pinch-hitter Larry Hand provided the scoring. In the fourth, a walk to Bushman, stolen base and Gary Nall's single gave Oregon a three-run edge.

Cal came back, scoring and loading the bases against relief pitcher Schutz with a single and three walks. Fred Massar replaced Schutz on the mound, immediately dealt up a grand slam homer to Wayne Burd, and the Ducks found themselves trailing 7-5.

A fifth-inning single by Wicklund brought Oregon a run closer, then the Webfoots jumped ahead 8-7 in the seventh following singles by Bushman and Howe.

But Van Wyck, Oregon's fifth pitcher, ran into trouble in the ninth after blanking the Bears in the three previous innings. Burd hit a one out homer to tie the game, and shortstop Dennis Dalton, an eighth-inning replacement, got a hold of a Van Wyck pitch with two outs and drove in two runs with the second homer of his life.

Oregon wasn't giving up yet. With two out in the ninth, Roger Schiewe walked and Howe tripled to center. But first game losing pitcher Bill Schofield came out of the bullpen to get the final out.

Oregon, which outhit Cal 16-9, had at least one hit every inning but left 14 runners on base.

Cal is now 30-16 overall and 11-7 in conference. The Ducks, despite the split, are assured of a winning season. They are 21-17, 7-11 in Pacific-8 play.
