SPACE CENTER, Houston — The moonship Intrepid flashed away from the Ocean of Storms Thursday and docked with Yankee Clipper in lunar skies, its exciting 31-hour liberty on the moon over, ready for the long voyage home.

At 3:10 p.m. (EST) the three Navy commanders, Charles Conrad Jr., Alan Bean and Richard Gordon Jr. were together again in the mothership Clipper.

The astronauts spent their last night in lunar orbit resting and recovering from the hours they spent on the moon.

They are to fire their rockets and break out of lunar orbit at 3:43 p.m. (EST) Friday, heading for a Monday splashdown in the Pacific.

WASHINGTON—President Nixon accepted the resignation of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Thursday in an action which may mean at least a temporary downgrading of the level of U.S. participation in the stalemated peace talks in Paris.

High administration officials said that was not the purpose of the moves involved.

Lodge and his deputy, attorney Lawrence Walsh, are leaving the Vietnam negotiations effective Dec. 8.

PARIS—A Viet Cong spokesman commenting on the resignation of U.S. peace negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge said Thursday that "changing the negotiator is not enough—the Nixon administration must also change its policy."

WASHINGTON — Two more Republicans senators disclosed Thursday their opposition to the Supreme Court nomination of Clement Haynsworth Jr., while a Democrat backed it. But the outcome still rested with uncommitted members whose positions may remain secret until the roll call Friday.

Planned screening of 'subversives' clears committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Screening programs to keep subversives out of defense plants and off U.S. merchant ships would be authorized by law under a bill approved Thursday by the House Committee on Internal Security.

The bill, introduced by Chairman Richard Ichord (D-Mo.), is intended to supply congressional authority for two programs struck down by the Supreme Court. The tribunal said employment could not be denied solely for affiliation with Communist-action organizations.

Defense Department witnesses showed little enthusiasm for the bill, saying employees at sensitive defense plants are effectively screened under a program set up by executive order.

But Coast Guard officials said the bill would permit them to restore a screening program for employees on waterfronts and merchant ships that was halted by a Supreme Court decision last year.

The Coast Guard program was struck down in 1967 on grounds it was not authorized by Congress in the Magnuson Act under which the Coast Guard was conducting it.

The court said defense plant screening programs established unconstitutional "guilt by association." But the court noted in its decision that Congress is not precluded from passing laws to protect defense plants so long as constitutional rights are not violated.

Ichord said his bill would remove constitutional doubts.

Eugene area strike at Bi-Mart settled

The 105-day-old strike at three Eugene-Springfield area Bi-Mart discount stores was settled Thursday evening.

Terms of the agreement were not announced.

Jack Phelan, area Bi-Mart manager, and James McCormick, secretary-treasurer of the striking Retail Clerks Local 201, met Tuesday with a federal mediator in Portland.

Union membership then approved the agreement reached between union and management negotiators at the Portland meeting, ending the strike immediately.
