File destroyers to speak

Father Joseph O'Rourke, S. J. of "D.C. Nine" Dow Chemical file destroyers, and Bill Sweeney of the "Chicago 15" that destroyed Selective Service files will speak at 2:30 p.m. today in the Dads' Room of the EMU.

The NBC color special on chemical and biological warfare will also be shown.

Sweeney and O'Rourke are both outspoken critics on such topics as American foreign policy, the Selective Service System, the military industrial complex, racism, and poverty. The pair are both under indictment for various charges relating to their actions.

O'Rourke entered the Washington, D.C., offices of Dow Chemical on March 22 and with eight other persons destroyed files and correspondance dealing with sales of napalm. The "D.C. Nine" accused Dow Chemical of seeking profit with the production of napalm, defoliants, and nerve gas.

The Chicago 15" of which Sweeney is a part is a group of people which entered a South Side draft board in Chicago on May 25 and burned the I-A files of approximately 50,000 men.

Fraternity found guilty of indecent conduct

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was placed on social probation by the Student Conduct Committee Thursday.

The sanction stemmed from a charge of lewd or indecent conduct, but the issue at stake was whether the fraternity as a group encouraged or failed to take responsible steps to prevent the violations.

As a result of the sanction, the fraternity will not be allowed to have any female visitors at the house until the end of the term and will not be allowed any social functions until after the end of the term.

During the hearing, a spokesman for the fraternity asked for and was granted a closed hearing. At that point the committee chairman cleared onlookers and the press from the room.

The plea met no opposition from the prosecuting attorney, who represented the Associate Dean of Students.

Froines, Rubin to speak Sunday

Two of the Chicago "Conspiracy Seven," will appear at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in McArthur Court.

John Froines, assistant professor of chemistry at the University, and Jerry Rubin, YIPPIE leader, are scheduled to discuss the Chicago conspiracy trial under the title, "Freedom Can't Be Gagged."

Froines, Rubin and six others were charged with conspiracy, following disturbances during the Democratic convention in Chicago last year.

Bobby Seale, national chairman of the Black Panther Party, and one of the original eight defendants, has since been convicted of contempt of court and will face the conspiracy charge at a later date.

The Chicago trial has garnered an unusual amount of publicity, and has been described by several observers as a "legal carnival."

Federal Judge Julius Hoffman has been the central figure in the controversy surrounding the trial. The defendants claim that Hoffman is biased; that the trial is not fair and impartial.
