

SAB to decide Eachus' status on Wednesday

The Student Administrative Board (SAB) will determine Ron Eachus' status as ASUO President Wednesday.

The group's decision will be the final word in a controversy over whether or not Eachus is still head of the student body.

The SAB was assigned the responsibility by University President Robert Clark at a faculty meeting earlier this month.

The controversy over Eachus' status began at the beginning of this term, when EMU Director Dick Reynolds disqualified Eachus as an office holder. Reynolds' decision was in accordance with faculty legislation which set a requirement of nine hours of study on officers who are graduate students. Eachus had only seven hours in the fall, as his term was cut short by a trip to Hanoi with a peace delegation.

However, according to ASUO regulations, Eachus remained qualified, having carried the necessary six hour load. Eachus was recognized as President by the ASUO Senate and continued to function in his office. The SAB had a preliminary discussion concerning Eachus last week, deciding not to reach a final decision until Wednesday.

Peace activist to speak

George Lakey

George Lakey, internationally known peace activist, will conduct two workshops in training for non-violent action in Eugene today. The workshops will be held at Newman Center, 1850 Emerald at 2:30 and 6:30 p.m.

Lakey will give a public address sponsored by the Graduate Student Council at 12:30 today in the EMU Dad's Room. His topic will be "Strategy for Non-Violent Revolution and Social Change."

EMU traffic gate goes to work today

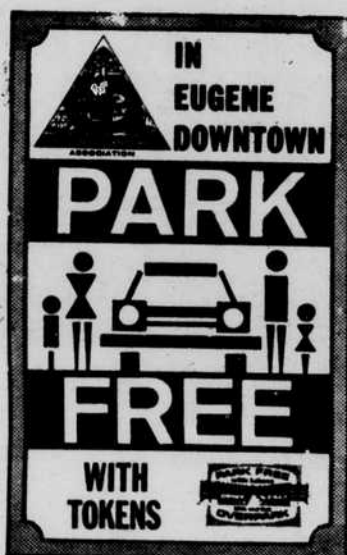

The traffic gate recently installed behind the EMU will be put into operation Monday.

The gate, which will set the parking area behind the EMU off for visitors parking only, will be working from 6 a.m. until 9 p.m. daily until further notice.

The Oregon Daily Emerald is published Monday through Friday during school year, except during exam and vacation periods. Twice weekly during 8-week summer session; once weekly during 3-week summer session, by the Publications Board of the University of Oregon.

Second-class postage paid at Eugene, Oregon 97403. subscription rates $10 per year, $9.00 academic year, $3.50 per term.
