Mallards stop PSU 3-2 in comeback win

Adnan Kahtany captained the Portland Staters as they came to Eugene determined to lead the Vikings to a share of first place in the Oregon Intercollegiate Soccer Association.

The Mallards were just as determined to stop the Vikings and hold Kahtany, who had scored 29 goals in eight games and is on his way to the league scoring records, to zero points. The scene was set for the game of the week in the league and it was, as the Mallards won 3-2.

Portland State carried a 1-0 lead into halftime and added another before the Mallard offense could break through. Ron Brandsteder finally kicked one through 13 minutes into the half, then, following the tying goal by Dick Jonker, won the game with his second score, eight minutes from the gun.

Kahtany scored one goal for the Viks as his team outshot the Oregon team 28-13.

Water polo

In another game, the Coots continued their winning ways as they ran their record to 4-0 shutting out LCC team, 2-0.

The strong Coot defense has allowed only one goal this season.

Coach Chuck Horner's prediction of winning three of five games during the water polo team's California trip came within a double over-time of coming true.

University of Pacific swimmers managed to put three in the cage against a tiring team of Ducks to win that game, 13-10.

Earlier in the trip, Oregon had come from behind scoring four goals in the last quarter to beat Chico State, 8-7, and had sunk Sacramento State in a 14-10 meet. They had also lost to California, 10-7, via the late goal routine and were outclassed by the San Jose J.V.'s in a 13-5 route. San Jose's varsity is top ranked in the nation so has a well stocked J.V. team as well.

Leading the scoring were Gary Hidle and Tom Hill who each picked up 12 goals over the five games. Bob Medlock, the most improved player over the series, chipped in six more as did Steve Smith and Larry Barr.

Guy out; Glass, Anderson doubtful

The Ducks not only lost the game and a chance for the Rose Bowl Saturday, but one and possibly as many as three players.

Out for the season is defensive tackle Tim Guy, who strained the ligaments in his right knee in Oregon's 31-21 loss to Washington State. Guy was operated on Monday.

Flanker Leland Glass and tailback Reecie Anderson may miss Saturday's contest in Colorado Springs with Air Force. Glass injured his left knee and according to Coach Jerry Frei "it will take a miraculous recovery for him to play. I don't think it will happen. But it could." Anderson sprained his ankle.

Also suffering from ankle sprains, but ready to go against the Falcons, are defensive back Bill Steber and tight end Chuck Bradley.
