MEETINGS

All philosophy majors, both graduate and undergraduate should meet in the philosophy conference room, 311 PLC at 1 p.m. today to discuss what recommendations should be made to the department concerning budgetary and class cutting in the department.

There will be a short meeting followed by a film of the North-South All Star lacrosse game at 7:30 p.m. tonight in studio D of the library. All team members and prospective team members who plan to participate this spring are invited to attend.

A Christian Science testimony meeting will be held at 7 p.m. tonight in the Wesley Center. All are welcome.

The Oregon Christian Fellowship is hosting a body life meeting at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the Young Life House on the corner of 18th and University. Guest speaker will be Mike Hilty. Everyone is welcome.

CSPA Council discussion of school priorities from 10 a.m. to noon today in Hendricks Hall conference room.

SPEAKERS

Martha Vicinus, editor of Victorian Studies, will be speaking on "The Victorian Woman: Stereotypes of Femininity," today at 8 p.m. in the EMU. Admission is free.

The Department of Physics will present Professor John Rinehart of the University of Colorado speaking on "Transient Stresses in Solids" at 3:30 p.m. today in Room 16, Science I.

MISC.

Fall Term Math 95 students are requested to sell their copies of "Gobran" back to the Co-op today, if possible. The publisher is reprinting, but this term's students need the book now.

Also Fall Term Math 104 students are requested to sell their copies of "Swokowski" back to the Co-op today, since there are 200 more students signed-up for this class than books available.

The first meeting of the class "European Art & the Student Traveler" will be at 7 p.m. tonight in Rm. 102 Villard.

Ms Werdna Wyatt, Christian Science campus counselor, has office hours 3-5 p.m. today in the EMU.
