Police search for doggie

A University student received a severe dog bite in back of University Theater at about 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

The dog, described as a brown Doberman Pinscher was tied up at the time. The girl went to the Student Health Service who notified her that the bite was severe enough for it to be necessary to determine if the dog had rabies shots. The dog was not to be found however, and unless someone can help locate the animal the student will have to undergo a long and painful series of anti-rabies injections. Any persons with information or having seen the incident are urged to contact the Eugene Police Department at 342-5921.

Cultural Forum committee position open

The ASUC Cultural Forum is reopening applications for committee membership.

Applications will be taken in room 301 EMU beginning Monday, and lasting one week.

Cultural Forum activities encompass diverse areas, including speakers, movies, plays, folk, blues and jazz concerts as well as popular music concerts.

The Cultural Forum also assists student organizations with financing and organization of many varied activities such as special interest functions and symposiums.

The Cultural Forum recently appointed Mark Thrift the new director for the '72-'73 school year. Two assistant directors were also recently appointed for the upcoming year.

Industrial relations topic of discussion

Eaton Conant, director of the Institute of Industrial and Labor Relations, will moderate today's Graduate School discussion on "Education and Research Program of the Institute of Industrial Relations."

Also participating in the discussion which begins at 2:30 p.m. in the Graduate School Lounge, will be Paul Kleinsorge, professor of Economics; James Koch, acting assistant professor of Management; and graduate students from the Institute.

The session, one of a weekly series, is open to all members of the University community.

Portland anti-war march set

The Student Mobilization Committee at Portland State University has laid plans for an anti-war march and rally on the Park Blocks in Portland Saturday, Apr. 29.

The march will begin at 11 a.m. at Women's Park, S.W. 4th and Main and end at the South Park Blocks, S.W. Harrison and Park, outside PSU.

The rally has the support of several Portland area schools, including Portland Community College, Mount Hood Community College, Lewis and Clark College, and Reed College.

Both Reed and Lewis and Clark Colleges returned to normal Thursday after both campuses witnessed students barricading themselves in their respective administration buildings in protest against the Vietnam war.

The Reed students left the building after three days of occupations saying they realized their actions were not accomplishing their goal—ending the war.

NUC Presents

ICE

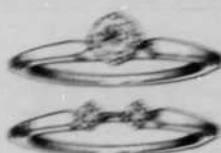

A fiction film about imminent urban guerrilla warfare in the U.S. set five, perhaps 20 years in the future. "Ice is the most important film of 1970"—Nat. Post. "Ice to me is the most original and most significant American narrative film in two maybe three years. The film proves in depth the most urgent contemporary realities. He is a film maker of the first magnitude"—The Village Voice. "Of all the films we've seen recently having to do with the New American Revolution, the only one to make any sense is Ice"—N.Y. Times.

Amaze your friends.

When you finish your Big Mac, they'll say, "boy, can he pack it away." Two beef patties, lettuce, cheese, special sauce, a sesame seed bun. Wow.
