U.S. National Bank is banking with the personal touch. Locally owned and locally invested, it is a tribute to Oregon. The one place where an individual's account means something. Free popcorn to munch on while writing out a check on some days. And a suggestion box that the manager listens to so that you get to have your say in how a bank is run. Basically, banking with no hassle at all.

Kaufman's has, simply, everything in ladies wear. Make-up by Estee Lauder. A super fine shoes section. The finest in fashionable clothing and accessories. And service that is renown. Not crowding and no hurry in the shopping process, and advice to make sure it's really smooth. Official headquarters, too, for Seventeen fashions, could you ask for more?

The Oak Pit has just about the best breakfast around, but lunch ain't bad either. In fact, lunch there is just fine. Hamburger deluxe is huge and the giant cheeseburger is well . . . giant. In addition, the Oak Pit features fine ham, and reuben and many other warm sandwiches, and that ain't just whistling Dixie. Super fine place to just have a cup of coffee and while away the time reading the newspaper.

Fredrick's features fashions by Bobby Brooks, multipurpose ladies wear at the most economical prices. A stereo radio and tape section too, for a gift to treat a friend, or maybe just to treat yourself.

Red Rooster is more than just a barber shop. It is tuned into today's long hair styles. A barber shop where to take a little off means just that: take a little off. Razor cuts too for the superb in hair control. Styling for men on the go in today's world.

Claypool's has everything at the tip of the fingers. A drug store first, but well stocked in all the accessories a student needs to just make life easier. It is said that the details count the most and Claypool's provides all the details. Maybe you just want a candy bar, or a pack of cigarettes, or maybe something larger like a hot water bottle, they've got it. What would you want a hot water bottle for?

Ben's Pour House has a quiet, cozy atmosphere. Two pool tables and a television you can see and hear while you sip the fine Oly on tap. A good place for a beer at lunch or to chat about the day at five with the friend, who with you, have survived it.
