MEETING ROOMS, INFORMATION,
CLASSIFIED ADS, FOOD ... IT'S ALL HERE

Even during the busiest of rush periods, the lines move smoothly and swiftly through the three-station check stands in the EMU food service cafeteria. There is also a snack bar to serve "quickie" meals in the Fish Bowl.

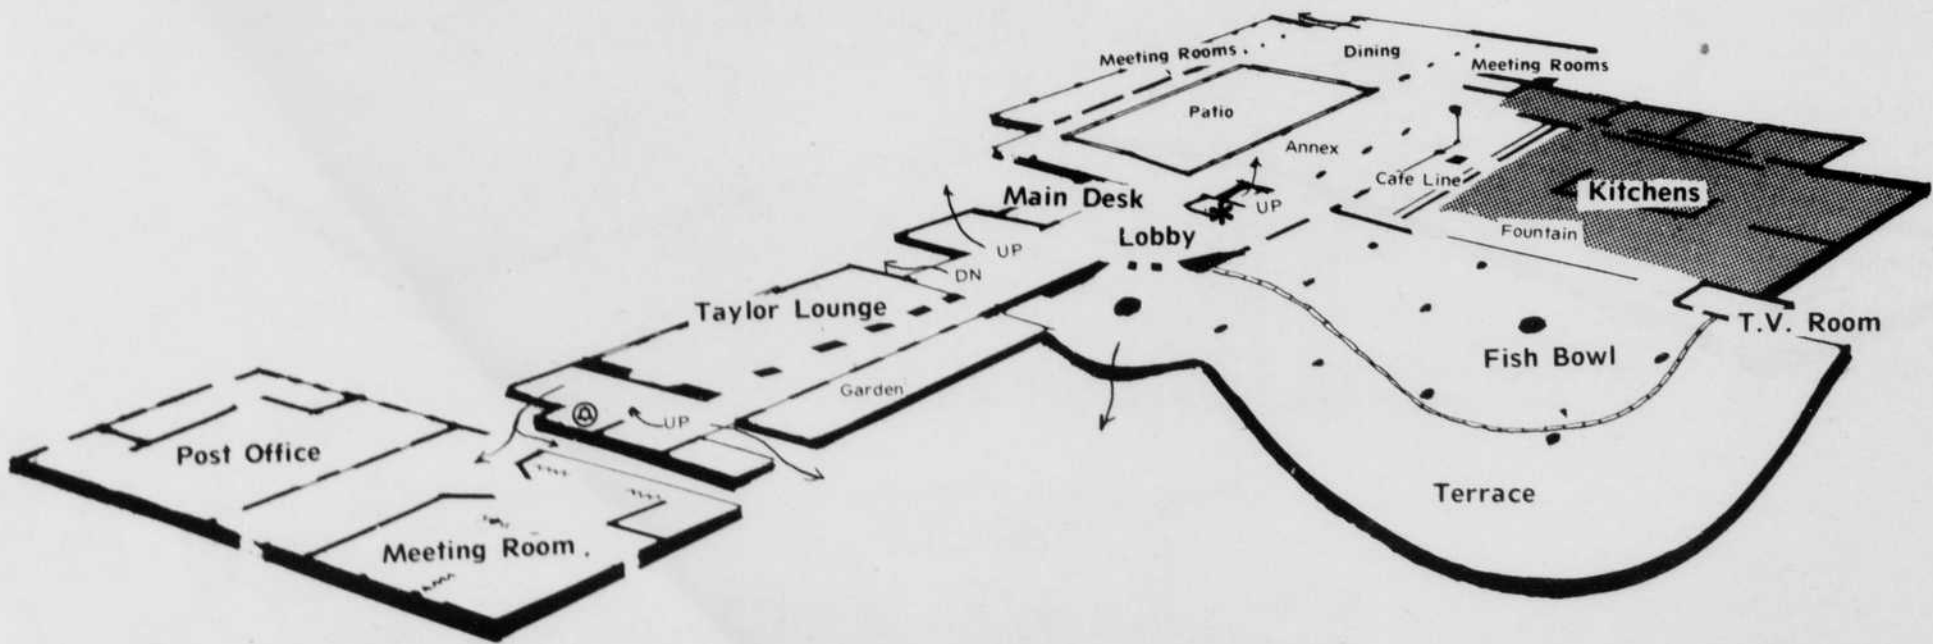

When you hear someone mention the Fish Bowl you will know they mean the large room with the big glass windows located on the northwest side of the building. Here, hundreds gather daily for rap sessions, sandwiches, cokes, doughnuts, coffee, bridge, pinochle or as a place to sit, rest, and read the papers. Sooner or later you'll meet nearly everyone in the Fish Bowl.

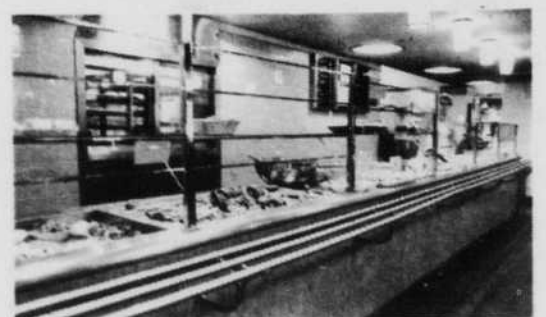

THE ERB MEMORIAL UNION is dedicated to making the extra-curricular work of students an integral part of their education. It was built solely through gifts from alumni and friends of the University, student building fees and through the sale of bonds to be retired through the use of future building fees.

Step through the glass main doors and into the towering marble lobby and you will find an array of goods and services especially suited to carrying out the stated purpose of making extra-curricular activities and integral part of education.

There is something for everyone at the "Erb". It houses the offices of student government, various student programs, a branch of the United States Post Office, check cashing and information facilities as well as a complete recreation area and food service. Many meeting rooms take care of the complex running of a modern university campus. The building is truly the center of extra-curricular life.

Hamburgers, french fries and short orders come off the grill with amazing speed. We know you're probably in a hurry so we put all our super fresh ingredients together tastefully, economically and promptly.

The EMU is still able to provide a daily special including a main dish, vegetable, roll and butter for less than a $1 bill. But, if you don't want the special, there are other tempting hot dishes awaiting your pleasure.
