

Senate has busy session

Resolutions, appointments, Constitution Committee rules of procedure and fiscal appropriations totalling nearly $2,500 were passed by the ASUO Senate in its first meeting of the winter term Thursday night.

The Senate passed resolutions protesting cuts in funding to the ASUO day care center and calling for a change in the Eugene Human Rights Commission attitude toward homosexuals. Jim Hood of the Gay People's Alliance stated at the meeting that he felt the commission had shown definite discrimination against gay people.

Assignments to ASUO Senate committees were approved, as were several other appointments.

Tom Johnson was approved as ASUO controller, Debbie Coon and Robin Chakravanti were appointed to the Elections Board and Mike Ignatius was named to the Dormitory Governance Committee.

The rules of procedure were approved for the ASUO Constitution Committee, opening the door for work to begin on a hearing concerning elections procedure from a statement submitted by ASUO Vice-President Fred Lobeys.

The Senate also approved dates for winter term elections. The primary elections will be held Feb. 4, 5, with the generals slated for Feb. 21-22.

Another resolution, introduced by Senator Bob Reno, was passed supporting student appointments to the College of Liberal Arts Advisory Committee.

Fiscal appropriations were approved for $200 to the National Student Lobby, loans of $56.35 to the Cosmopolitan Student Association and $460 to the Chinese Student Association, $704 to Switchboard, $850 to the Tax Advising Center and $200 to the Constitution Committee.

Degree applications deadline Jan. 26

The list of all degree candidates for winter term graduation is now being compiled by the Office of the Registrar. The last day upon which an application for degree can be filed for inclusion in this list is January 26, 1973. This date will be enforced because of the many operations of checking, clearing and printing which must follow.

To qualify for the degree applied for, a student must have completed all necessary work and procedures by the end of the term. All transcripts from other schools, including Division of Continuing Education, necessary for a degree should be sent to the attention of Graduation, Office of the Registrar, in order that it be on file by the Deadline, March 23, 1973.

Any student who has applied previously and did not receive the degree must reapply.

Help recycle phone books

Show your strength, rip up a phone book. According to the ASUO Survival Center, phone books can be recycled with newspapers if the back and binding have been removed.

SEARCH offers credit for committee

Are you interested in University Education and Educational Innovation? If so, SEARCH has set up a Steering Committee composed of students, faculty and staff. We will be meeting once a week. Dependent upon input one can receive 1-3 graded hours of credit. Deadline to apply Friday January 26. Contact Alternative Education Office, 305 EMU, 686-4377.

Fun and games planned for fishbowl

Fishbowl Follies is for rainy nights. Fishbowl Follies is for study breaks. Fishbowl Follies is a remedy for the "nothin' else to do" blues. Fishbowl Follies is music, films, comedy, talent, and popcorn.

Beginning Monday, January 22, Fishbowl Follies will begin. The Follies will take place in the EMU Fishbowl (of all places!), Monday through Thursday evenings, from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. Each week, the Follies will offer a variety of entertainment and special deals on food purchases.

Starting the Follies off on Monday night will be a collection of film shorts, consisting of selections from W.C. Fields, Charlie Chaplin, Laurel and Hardy, and old-time science fiction and horror tales. Tuesday night, the popular local musical group, Wheatfield will begin a four-date series of performances. They will appear Tuesday and Thursday evenings for two consecutive weeks. Wednesday night remains a mystery. It is known that there will be a stage and microphone set-up in the Fishbowl. Who will use them!? Who knows! Anyone and everyone is invited to perform on Wednesday night.

And, of course, the Fishbowl Snack Bar will offer special low prices during the Follies. Popcorn, coffee, and soft drinks will be available for only a nickel.

Of course, there is no admission and everyone is invited.

Phone number correction

An Emerald story last week incorrectly listed the home phone number of Representative Mary Burrows (R-41st Dist). The correct number is 343-6571 and her office advises her constituency to feel free to call.

Outdoor equipment swap planned

Outdoors enthusiasts who would like to buy or sell used backpacking, skiing, climbing and camping equipment are invited to take part in an equipment swap Tuesday, January 30, sponsored by the University of Oregon Outdoor program.

The event will take place at 7 p.m., in the Outdoor Program headquarters, Room 23 of the Erb Memorial Union, on the Oregon campus.

"This is a unique opportunity for the potential outdoor person who just can't afford to pay regular prices for good equipment," explains Larry Pistor, organizer of the swap.

He expects prices to be from one-third to one-fourth lower than normal store prices.

Further information is available from the Outdoor Program in the Erb Memorial Union (686-4365). The Outdoor Program headquarters is reached by descending the outdoor steps adjacent to the loading dock at the south side of the Erb Memorial Union.

effect, be creating a quota system and that this would violate Department of Health, Education and Welfare rules and regulations.

Sonny Montez, Mt. Angel College, heatedly accused Clark of paying only lip-service to the Chicano recommendations and "playing games with the HEW guidelines."

Clark calmly asked for the next report.

Sonny Montez, it turned out, presented it. The last report was the workshop on Chicano community and University relations. Montez requested that the University make a solid attempt to discover and communicate with the Chicano community in Eugene. "We are the largest minority in Oregon," he said.
