Correction

On Friday, the Emerald reported erroneously that Jackson-Sanchez had been charged with illegally placing campaign material in private mail boxes. The story should have read that Marshall-Fitzpatrick had been charged.

We offer our sincere apologies to Paige Jackson and Richard Sanchez for the error.

On Campus

Glass artisan featured this week

The Craftsman's Corner, a program sponsored by the EMU, will feature Craftsman Robert Gold this week. Gold makes leaded mirrors and stained glass and will set up a small booth in the EMU Fishbowl and exhibit, sell and demonstrate the making of his craft. Craftsman's Corner operates today through Friday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Tax plan questions fielded this morning

University economics professor Kim Patterson and Bob Wynia of the Oregon Department of Education will speak at a question and answer session on Gov. McCall's tax plan this morning at 9:30 a.m. in room 151 of the Education Building. Patterson will answer questions on the revenue portions of the bill, and Wynia will explain disbursement of funds.

The session is sponsored by the careers' committee of the education administration students.

Science Library to conduct survey

A group of students from the School of Librarianship, in cooperation with the Science Library, will be conducting a user survey of that library during this week. The purpose is to gather data on the type of clientele of the library, their needs, and extent of satisfaction with the materials and services available. The results of the survey will be presented to the Library Administration.

A short questionnaire will be distributed to all persons entering the library at selected hours during the week. These questionnaires can be filled out any time during the users stay, and deposited in a specially marked box at the exit turnstile.

All students concerned with the Science Library are encouraged to cooperate in this effort.

The Bureau of Governmental Research and Service at the University has prepared a local government finance bulletin containing a summary and analysis of Gov. Tom McCall's school tax plan.

The 22-page paper, prepared in cooperation with the Oregon Finance Officers Association, contains detailed tables on school financing and property tax rates.

Copies are available at the bureau office, 339 Hendricks Hall.

Dialogue tonight on death experience

A dialogue on the experience of death and dying from psychological, cultural, and religious perspectives is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. tonight at Wesley Center, 1236 Kincaid.

William Hamilton, Dean of Arts and Letters at Portland State, and Frances Scott, Donna McKenzie, and Jim Lynch of the Center for Gerontology at the University will participate.

Hamilton, who will make the opening presentation, is a noted author, lecturer, and has appeared frequently as writer and host on CBS's "Look Up and Live" program.

Tolkien's Trilogy to be discussed

Walter Scheps, associate professor of English at Ohio State University, will present a lecture entitled "The Fairy-tale Morality of Tolkien's Trilogy" today at 4 p.m. in the EMU.

Scheps, who has published a number of articles with such publications as "Chaucer Review," "Shakespeare Quarterly" and "Notes and Queries," graduated magna cum laude from City College of the City University of New York, in 1963. He received his Ph.D. from the University in 1966.

The meeting room for the lecture, sponsored by the U of O English Department, will be posted in the Erb Memorial Union.

Gonzalez speaks on IFC vacancies

A statement by Gloria Gonzalez, concerning the legality of filling an Incidental Fees Committee vacancy by appointment rather than by election, will be heard by the ASUO Constitution Committee on Wednesday, at 3:30 p.m. in the EMU. The room will be posted.
