Blood Week sponsored for Donors Club

University sororities are sponsoring Blood Week today through Friday for the benefit of the University Donors Club.

Blood Week, although sponsored by the Greeks, is aimed at encouraging all University students to donate a pint of blood. All blood donated to the University Donors Club goes to anyone connected with the University who needs blood at no cost.

Blood donors may go to the Lane Memorial Blood Bank at 740 E. 13th. The blood bank is open from 1:30-4 p.m. Tuesday-Thursday and is open by appointment only from 3-6 p.m. on Friday.

Growth and spirit to be panel topic

"The Effects of Limited Growth on the Human Spirit" will be the topic for discussion at 8 p.m. tonight in Studio A of the Audiovisual Library. Several "stickler-type" questions will be discussed by panelists Bob Peters, Gary Young (both Cooperative Christian Ministers), Zed Crawley (Eugene environmentalist) and George Zaninovich (Political Science prof.).

Meditation Society to sponsor film

At 8 p.m. today in 107 Lawrence Hall, there will be a free color film presented by the Students' International Meditation Society entitled "The Main Purpose." In the film, Maharishi Mahesh Yogi discusses his technique of transcendental meditation for the full development of the individual.

WRA plans bike race for slowpokes

Here's a chance for losers. Can you be the last person over the finish line? Try the Women's Recreation Association Slow Bike Race tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. on 13th street (the blocked off section on campus). There are three categories: for three or five speed bikes, for 10 speed bikes and for no speed bikes. The objective is to go the shortest distance in two minutes. Your feet may not touch the ground and your bike may not cross into another lane. Entry blanks will be available at the beginning of tonight's races.

Follies to feature classical musician

Jane Martin, a classical musician, will be the featured artist of the free Fishbowl Follies this week. She will perform in the EMU Fishbowl tonight and Thursday evening at 8:30 p.m.

The Follies will include its regular Wednesday night "Free Mike" program which also begins at 8:30 p.m.

Students to appear in Ashland concerts

A University student organized, trained, and scheduled music group, the University Chamber Ensemble, will be appearing in concert in Ashland today.

Their concerts will be at 12:30 p.m. in the Music Auditorium at Southern Oregon College.

Members of the group are: Barbara Myrick, Daniel Geeting, Delbert Saman and Richard Long.

The Ensemble's repertoire includes compositions written for varying combinations of flute, clarinet, bassoon, harpsichord, and piano. Music is from all periods of music history and includes compositions by Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Villa-Lobos, Sweelinck, and Hindemith.

CSPA plans 'event' for info sharing

The Community Service and Public Affairs (CSPA) school is holding "an event" Thursday and Friday to share information on curriculum, decision making and the mission of the school. Action plans for running the school next year will also be made. All CSPA students, pre-CSPA majors, alumni, classified and faculty are invited to attend. The event will be held from noon to 7 p.m. Thursday and 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday at the Congregational church at 23rd and Harris.

Thursday's dinner is free; bring money for Friday's lunch and dinner. To participate, you must register with the CSPA receptionist at ext. 3815. Because of the event, all CSPA classes Thursday from 11 a.m. on will be cancelled.

Parking closed for landscaping surveys

Parking along 13th Street between the new Administrative Services building and Science III will be closed Friday, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. in order to facilitate landscaping surveys of the two buildings, according to Campus Security. The visitors' parking lot behind the EMU will also be closed for two weeks.

Community

Planned Parenthood recruiting volunteers

Planned Parenthood is recruiting volunteers for work in the office and in the community. Experience and-or schooling in family planning, counseling and-or some related field is preferred, but not absolutely needed. Also practicum credit for both summer and fall is possible, depending on the department. For information, contact Sue Johnson, Planned Parenthood 142 E. 14th, 344-1611.
