

177 La
7:30
$1.00

Ticket

Sponsored by Bunuel Film Class 407

Physicist to attend conference

Gerald Mahan, director of the University's Institute of Theoretical Science, has been invited to take part in conferences in Europe next month by the Nobel Prize Committee and NATO.

Mahan, an associate professor of physics, is one of only 50 authorities in a special field of physics to be invited to the Nobel Prize session June 12-16 in Goteberg, Sweden, which will consider the collective properties of physical systems. Mahan's own research interest is solid state physics.

The purpose of the invitational event is to bring together the best minds in a given field to exchange ideas in an informal atmosphere.

The following two weeks, Mahan will take part in a session at the University of Antwerp in Belgium, focusing on elementary excitations in solids, molecules, and atoms.

On Campus

CSPA announces interview signup

Prospective undergraduate applicants for the Public Affairs and International Development Divisions of the School of Community Services and Public Affairs should sign up for personal interviews as soon as possible. Enrollments in the program may be limited next year. Sign-up sheets are posted on the bulletin board adjacent to Room 103, Hendricks Hall.

ROTC awards ceremony Sunday

Annual University ROTC awards will be presented at 1 p.m. Sunday in the Music School Auditorium.

The Commanding General of the 5th U.S. Army will officiate. Thirty-three cadets will receive awards.

Dance performance to be held Sunday

Rosa Tuo will present her thesis, "The Influence of Western Culture on Chinese Modern Dance Choreography," at 4 p.m. Sunday in Gerlinger Annex 353.

The performance is free and open to the public.

Applications available for ASUO assistants

Applications may be picked up in the ASUO Secretary's Office, Room 308 EMU from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and Monday for ASUO Administrative Assistant positions.

Deadline for returning applications is 5 p.m. Monday.

Interviews will be held Tuesday and Wednesday.

Job description for Chief Administrative Assistant and additional Administrative Assistants will be available with applications.

Applications are open to all undergraduate and graduate students.

Professor chosen treasurer

Arthur Hawn, assistant professor of interior architecture at the University, has been elected treasurer of the Interior Design Educators Council.

He recently addressed the national conference of the Council, meeting at the University of Michigan, on a pilot study he is conducting which is aimed at developing the first scholarly journal in interior design education.

Hawn, who is chairman of the Accreditation Guidance Committee of the Foundation for Interior Design Education Research, also spoke on a panel which explained current developments in the new national accreditation program for schools of interior design.

Foreign Study program offered

The University is offering a summer foreign study program in Ljubljana, Yugoslavia, in connection with the Special Education course "Cross Cultural Aspects of Special Education."

Topics of the July 1 to July 31 session include acquisition and development of language, rehabilitation of handicapped, relationship between culture, economics and service to handicapped persons.

English speaking Yugoslavian professors will share instruction with University staff.

The course will offer six hours of graduate or undergraduate credit.

The cost will be $220 for tuition, $200 for board and room, and $375 air fare from New York to Ljubljana. Additional fare from any point in the U.S. to New York will be billed at the lowest group rate. There is a special reduction for persons 25 years or younger. Participants may elect to join the study group in Ljubljana and arrange their own charter flight from the point of departure.

Ljubljana is 100 miles from Venice and 175 miles from Vienna. Evenings and three and one-half day weekends will be available to explore the cultural heritage of Europe.

Further information is available from Ruth Waugh in the University's College of Education. Applications are due June 8.

South Asian textiles to be lecture topic

Balinese and Javanese textiles will be the subject of a free public lecture today at the University by Jane Gehring, associate professor of art and art education.

Gehring will speak at 4:30 p.m. in 177 Lawrence Hall.

A member of the Oregon faculty since 1961, she was a visiting professor to Waiakato University and Hamilton Teachers College in Hamilton, New Zealand during the 1967-69 academic years.

Her own interest and main work is in textile design. Exhibits of her works travel with the Western Association of Art Museums and Statewide Services of the University Art Museum.

Black Student Union sponsors Sunday picnic

The Black Student Union is sponsoring a commemoration of Malcolm X's birthday by resting on Sunday at a picnic at Armitage Park. The picnic will start at 11 a.m. and last until 5 p.m. $1.00 will be charged for lunch.

The evening will be capped by the Les McCann Concert from 6:30-9 p.m. in the EMU Ballroom. There will be a $2.50 admission charge.

All Black, African and Muslim students are invited.

Yoga society to present film Saturday

The Ananda Marga Yoga Society will present W.C. Fields in "Alice in Wonderland" at 7 and 9 p.m. Saturday in 180 PLC. Admission is 75 cents.

Friday, May 18, 1973

Proudly announces the Release of the Metropolitan Opera Production of Bizet's Carmen

Starring Marilyn Horne

with Leonard Bernstein conducting.

ONLY
$11.97

A THREE RECORD SET
with COMPLETE
LIBRETTO

ONE
WEEK
ONLY

DG 2709 043

Plus! The entire
DG
ARCHIVE
catalog at

$4⁵⁹
6.98
LIST
PER DISC

"The 'perfect' opera may never get the perfect recording, but in the here and now it's difficult to imagine a more provocative, musically distinguished 'Carmen' than this." — Peter G. Davis, THE NEW YORK TIMES, April 22, 1973

Viscount records

VALLEY RIVER CENTER

Mon-Sat 10-9
SUNDAYS 12-5

342-7735

The Oregon Daily Emerald is published Monday through Friday during the school year, except during exam and vacation periods, and four times weekly during summer session by the Oregon Daily Emerald Board of Directors, Incorporated, at the University of Oregon.

Second class postage paid at Eugene, Oregon, 97403.

Subscription rates:

(1) University of Oregon student and faculty staff subscription rates are based on annual contracts between the Emerald and the ASUO and the Emerald and the University administration. The rate of these subscriptions is approximately $2.00 per year.

(11) Special subscriptions for persons not included in category (1) are available at a rate of $10.00 per year, $9.00 per academic year and $3.50 per term.

Torrie McAllister
Al Phelps

Editor
General Manager