English 436G, The Ashland Plays

11:30 M-H 207 Chapman

Ed-rec in beautiful Ashland area. See Shakespeare on North America's first Elizabethan stage.

Old stuff, modern come-on.

"All hell shall stir for this" - "Henry the Fifth."

If you think Watergate was just a deplorable incident, don't bother.

Mind-expanding, soul-enhancing, body-bracing.

Let your hang-ups all hang out.

"Your hearts are mighty, your skins are whole" - "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

Did you know Shakespeare was a Taurus? No bull.

"Put money in thy purse, excellent wretch. Potations bottle-deep is rich and rich enough. They laugh that win" - "Othello."

The mysterious remains the pervasive element in our lives.

"Men have died from time to time, and worms have eaten them—but not for love" - "As You Like It."

Shakespeare was gay, but not GPA.

If you've had it before, you can get it again. Eng. 436 G. No take-off.
