Summer term class printouts available

Students are requested to pick up a computer copy of their summer term class schedules starting today, according to Assistant Registrar Dorothy Brown.

Brown says it is important that students pick up their printouts to avoid any misunderstanding concerning class registration and grade options.

Printouts can be picked up at the Registrar's Office, 10 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Youth service finds summer jobs

The Oregon State Employment Division and the Governor's Commission on Youth are cooperating again this year to help young people find summer work.

The state's Youth Employment Service (Y.E.S.) now has offices in Eugene and Springfield.

Y.E.S. is urging employers to look around and think about the jobs that young people can do for them this summer.

To hire young people for the summer, employers can contact the Y.E.S. office in Eugene, 432 W. 11th Ave., 686-7777, or the Springfield Y.E.S. office at 765 N. "A" St., 746-0721.

Y.E.S. also has an office in Cottage Grove at 510 Whitaker, 942-4323.

Canoing and river running classes open

Openings are still available in two courses in basic canoing and river running, offered by Eugene Parks and Recreation Department. The instruction includes one day on calm water at Fern Ridge Lake, a one day trip down the Willamette River and one overnight outing on the McKenzie River.

The first River School for those age 12 and over is July 16, 17, 19 and 20. The second River School is July 30, 31, Aug. 2 and 3 for those age 14 and up. The first two days of each session are scheduled for 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.

The registration fee of $5 should be paid at the parks and recreation office in city hall prior to the starting date of each session.

Pollution agency selects administrator

Lane Regional Air Pollution Authority Director, Vern Adkison, has announced the appointment of Joseph Lassiter to the newly created position of Program Administrator.

Mr. Lassiter began his new duties July 10. He has been with the Air Pollution Authority since November 1971 as a field representative.

The new position was created by a study ordered by the board of directors to better organize the agency for its size and growth. Recruitment was done through the Lane County Personnel Office. Mr. Lassiter was selected from more than 50 applicants from Oregon, Washington and California.

Short summer classes offered

Some students find it to their advantage to attend only short summer programs while they work in the summer and others wish to earn additional college credits beyond the regular summer session. For these reasons the Oregon Division of Continuing Education has scheduled the following short term programs in Portland:

July 23 - August 24, Anthropology Field Work; August 13-17, Taxation in State and Local Government, Coping with the Drug Crisis, Management of Auxiliary School Personnel, Driver Education, Gestalt Therapy, Drug Education, Smoking and Health Workshop, Radiological Health Survey, and Sex Education; August 13-24, Teaching Art in the Elementary School; August 20-24, Human Relations Training. For information on fees, hours of instruction and location of seminars, call the Division of Continuing Education offices at 686-4231.

No draft, but you must register

Selective Service Director Byron Pepitone today reminded the nation's young men that even though there is no draft, they still are required to register with Selective Service at the time of their 18th birthday.

"I am concerned that many of our young men may fail to register when they reach 18 years of age because they are unaware of their responsibilities to Selective Service," Pepitone said. It would be unfortunate if a young man should break the law because the proper information has not been made available to him," he added.

Failure to register is a violation of the law, Pepitone emphasized, and could result in prosecution by the Department of Justice.

The President's authority to induct men into the service expired on July 1.
