ON CAMPUS

Fantasy Symposium begins today in EMU

The Cultural Forum will sponsor a five-day symposium dealing with Fantasy, beginning today. Included will be science fiction, the supernatural, magic, mysticism, animation, and psycho-sexual fantasy.

The symposium will open with an address and film excerpts by Harlan Ellison, honored writer of fantasy, at 8 p.m. in the EMU Ballroom. Ellison has written TV scripts for Star Trek and The Outer Limits. There is no charge.

Soul of Japan Dance Company to appear

The Soul of Japan Modern Dance Company, a troupe of six dancers, will appear in two concerts at the University of Oregon Nov. 7 and 8.

On their first North American tour, the dancers will perform selections from their repertoire of modern dance. Many of the dances are original material choreographed by members of the company. Among those they will perform are "Three Faces of Chieko," "The Neighbor," and "Goodluck Grandma."

The concerts will be given at 8 p.m. each night in Studio Theatre 353 in Gerlinger Annex.

Admission to the concerts is free, but tickets will be required. These will be available Nov. 1 at the Womens' Physical Education office in Gerlinger Annex. Tickets must be picked up in advance.

'Watergate panel' to discuss impeachment

The possibilities and consequences of impeaching President Nixon will be the subject of a panel discussion presented by the Political Science Student Union (PSSU) at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the EMU.

The PSSU "Watergate Panel" will consist of four members: Irving Brant, author of "Impeachment: Trials and Error;" J. R. Klonoski, professor of political science and chairman of the Lane County Democratic Committee; Earl Pomeroy, professor for the University's Presidential Powers course; and Herb Titus, professor of law and former trial attorney for the U.S. Department of Justice.

Superintendent of schools to visit campus

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dale Parnell will be on the University of Oregon campus October 31 through November 2, to meet with faculty and students.

Parnell's visit launches the "Executive-in-Residence" program of the University's newly-formed Center for Educational Policy and Management (CEPM).

The new program will bring professional men and women in the field of educational administration to the Oregon campus to allow them to familiarize themselves with the students, faculty and programs in educational policy and management at the UO.

Parnell is scheduled to take part in six classes during his stay at the U of O, in addition to several office hours sessions, when he will meet individually with students and faculty.

Clark to speak on education panel

University President Robert D. Clark will be a panel member of the 1973 Citizens' Forum on Post-Secondary Education sponsored by Colleges for Oregon's Future, and co-sponsored by some 30 other state organizations.

The theme of the forum, on Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 at the Portland-Hilton Hotel, is "Price Tag: Post-Secondary Education." The panel on which President Clark will serve will discuss "Cost-Benefit Ratios: Post-Secondary Education," at 1:45 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 1.

ESCAPE recruitment coordinator needed

The position of Recruitment Coordinator with ESCAPE is open. This is a salaried position and requires some administrative and clerical skills. One term of previous experience with ESCAPE is a requisite. See Mel or Kathy at 327 EMU or call 686-4351.

ROTC seniors score high in military skills

Senior cadets in the University of Oregon's Army Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) program scored the highest record in abilities of cadets from 41 institutions from the 15 western states at the six-week ROTC Advanced Camp at Fort Lewis, Wash. this summer.

Cadets were measured and compared in ten areas designed to determine their military knowledge, leadership ability, and managerial skills.

The University of Oregon cadets placed first in five areas, third in two areas, and scored above the camp average in all but one. Their aggregate score put the U of O cadets in first place over the other 40 schools.
