Board of Directors consideration of an alternate bookstore contribution was discussed along with the forming of a committee to interview four faculty spots on their Board of Directors.

The board in the past has given money in the form of a scholarship available to foreign students at the University, but members are now considering transferring their yearly gift to a more direct outlet of the University such as the Day Care Center.

Within the next four weeks an interview board made up of five members will screen the four faculty members being considered for the two remaining Board of Director faculty slots.

The next board meeting will be held Wednesday, Nov. 28 at 3:30.
