DUCK DOPE

If you're looking for a bargain and like to get freebie items, you'll want to buy the Duck Dope coupon book again this fall.

For the seventh year in a row Duck Dope will be selling for $3 at several campus locations starting on the first registration day, Sept. 26.

Eighty to ninety coupons, most of them good until June 15, 1975, will offer such free items as a half hour of billiards at the EMU, a cup of coffee or tea at The McKenzie Coffee Company, a tire repair kit from National Cycle, a taco at TacoTime and a classified ad in the Emerald.

The mainstay of the book, though, is the discount and one-for-one coupons.

Discount offers range from ten per cent off Gran Tree furniture rentals, cameras and supplies at the Shutter Shops and a plant at the Indoor Garden, to 20 per cent off typewriter servicing at Seletronics, 25 per cent off tuition for Karate lessons and 40 per cent off jewelry engraving at Ed's Engraving or vitamins at Gold Cross Drugs.

When you get your book try this for a capper: Take a free ride on an LTD bus out to the Willamette Plaza, pick up a bottle of wine (20 per cent off sleep it off at the Eugene Hotel (20 per cent savings on a room).

Then depending on how you feel and look in the morning, you can go get a color portrait at Bruno Photo Service ($22.50 value for $9) or visit Pet Porium (one third off on all pet grooming).
