

Ducklings lose 37-6 to Pups

Washington unleashed a potent offensive arsenal to defeat the Oregon JVs, 37-6, at Autzen Stadium Friday afternoon.

The Ducklings played without at least five starters and were simply outmanned.

On their second possession of the game, the Ducklings drove to the Pups' five, but came away pointless when quarterback Jack Henderson threw incomplete on a crucial third down play. A fourth down field goal try was blocked.

The Pups in turn drove deep in Oregon territory and Gustave Clark chipped in three points as the first quarter ended, the first of three field goals.

After Clark's second field goal midway through the second quarter, Pup quarterback Mark Kettle rolled out and found Lionel Perry alone in the endzone. Clark added the PAT to make the score 13-0.

Henderson set up the Ducklings only score when he threw a 70-yard bomb to flanker Jim Churchill and two plays later bootlegged it in from the two. Bob Marshall missed the PAT and that was all for the Ducks.

It was an all around bad day for Marshall. He was the beneficiary of an atrocious center snap on a punt and had to sprawl on the turf to stop the ball. That play set up a Washington touchdown. Attempting an onside kick after the Oregon score, Marshall just grazed the ball and it spun backward to the 39, a one yard loss on the kickoff.

The Ducklings are now 1-1 and take on Washington State next week.

with a fourth down and one yard situation. USC was going to go for the first down, but quarterback Pat Haden strode up to the line of scrimmage and called time-out. Enter Limahelu for the field goal attempt.

"Coach McKay felt confident in me, but I had blown a couple of others," said Limahelu. "The fans were really going and Oregon's defense was all jacked-up. Oregon was playing pretty hard, pretty intense."

Then the time-out call by Haden.

"Anytime you do that, it makes the offensive line reactive. They start thinking about it. Coach McKay wanted to play it safe, and I had to get my confidence back," said Limahelu.

Presto, a 38-yarder and the game. But what about that missed 22-yarder in the second quarter?

"Oh, I missed that by inches," he laughed. "I was too over confident. I've been playing too much golf, and I tried to chip shot it in."

Geis tops harriers

Last year Paul Geis stood on the sidelines and watched Steve Prefontaine lead Oregon to an NCAA cross country championship, but this season Pre is gone and the layoff from competition hasn't seemed to hurt Geis one bit.

the Oregon Track Club, 50, and Lane CC, 128, among others. Oregon's women's team, however, wasn't so fortunate as they dropped a meet 19-57 to OTC.

Geis clocked in over the 5.8 miles at 27:16, 10 seconds ahead of Terry Williams of Oregon. The Ducks captured the top three places — in what was essentially an intra-squad meet — as Gary Barker finished third, Bob Hensley seventh, David Taylor ninth and Lars Kaupang tenth.

Kenny Moore finished fourth for OTC.

Maryl Barker was the only Oregon runner to place in the top ten in women's competition. Barker covered the three-mile course in 17:55, 30 seconds behind Caroline Walker of OTC, a former Webfoot runner. The North Eugene high school girls finished five points behind Oregon.
