

Workshops teach resource uses

Two workshops open to all students interested in learning to use the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC)

The emphasis of the ERIC system is primarily on education but it is useful in the fields as diverse as environmental studies and linguistics.

The workshops, jointly sponsored by the ERIC Clearinghouse on Educational Management and the education-psychology division of the library, are to be held in Studio B of the library audiovisual center on Tuesday, from 9 a.m. to noon and again on Thursday, from 7 to 10 p.m.

The workshops are limited to 50 and advance registration is required. To register, call (686-3074).

The Oregon Daily Emerald is a member of Associated Press and College Press Service.

ASUO sponsors seminar

The ASUO-sponsored collective bargaining symposium begins this morning with a full schedule of events.

According to Gary Herwood, ASUO administrative assistant and symposium coordinator, the topic of most concern to the faculty should be Financial Retrenchment Under Faculty Collective Bargaining, as aspects of wage cuts will be the main topic of conversation. Herwood expects a large student turnout to tonight's session, titled The Students' Role in Faculty Collective Bargaining.

The symposium will be held in 101 EMU.
