The "briefs" section is for campus and community announcements. No brief will be published that charges an admission or donation fee. However, classes that charge tuition or dinner events that offer a free program even to those who do not buy a dinner will be accepted.

All briefs must be typed, triple-spaced in a 65-unit margin. Handwritten briefs will be given low priority. Briefs will be published one time only in any seven-day period, as space permits.

The deadline for briefs is 2 p.m. the day before publication.

MEETINGS

The Educational Opportunities Committee which provides recommendations regarding minority programs in the areas of admissions procedures, academic programs, cultural programs, financial aid, academic advising, input procedures and evaluation will meet Tuesday, at 2 p.m. in the Faculty Club.

The Incidental Fee Committee will meet tonight at 7:30 in the EMU, room to be posted.

The Oregon Student Public Interest Research Group (OSPIRG) will meet tonight at 5:30 in the EMU, room to be posted. The meeting will be a bargaining session with the ASUO concerning OSPIRG's budget for 1976.

The UO Karate Club meets Mondays and Wednesdays from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. at 1917 Franklin Blvd. (across from the surplus store).

Persons wishing to observe or participate in our practice are invited to attend.

MISCELLANEOUS

Phi Gamma Delta, one of the nation's oldest fraternities, is now re-establishing its Oregon chapter. The representative is available to talk with you in the IFC office, Suite 3, EMU, from noon until 2 p.m., now through Friday. Organizational meetings are today and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., at the chapter house, 1810 Alder. Further information can be obtained by calling 344-2033 or the IFC office.

"Portrait of a Prisoner of Conscience," will be shown Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. in the EMU (room to be posted). The film is being sponsored by the political science department. The 15 minute film deals with the imprisonment of Vladimir Bukowski and Amnesty International's attempts to free him. Following the film there will be a presentation about the Eugene Chapter of Amnesty International and what you can do to help political prisoners in countries all over the globe.

All persons interested in the possible reinstatement of the 'D' grade are invited to an informal discussion Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. in the EMU (room to be posted) sponsored by the Student University Affairs Board (SUAB). Attending will be the faculty chairperson of the Committee on Course-Related Academic Procedures, the four student members of the Committee, and SUAB student representatives.

Open try-outs for Jean Giraudoux's classic one-act comedy, "The Apollo of Bellac" are today and Tuesday at 7 p.m. in 104 Villard (Arena Theatre). Twelve excellent character parts available. For more information contact Phil Weiler (345-1329).

The graduate students of the University physics department are sponsoring a series of filmed lectures with the desire of sharing with our fellow students some of the splendor and mystery of the way in which man sees his physical universe. The Messinger lectures were intended to broaden and enrich the liberal arts education at Cornell University by providing "a course of lectures on the evolution of civilization for the special purpose of raising moral standards." The 1964 lectures given by Richard Feynman, noble laureate and holder of several teaching awards, look at the general characterization of reality that has evolved in the branch of man's intellectual pursuit called physics.

The films will be shown Tuesday nights at 7 in 123 Science and will be free of charge. Each film lasts approximately one hour. Following is a list of the films and the dates on which they will be shown:

The Great Conservation Principles	Jan. 27
Symmetry in Physical Law	Feb. 3
The Distinction of Past and Future	Feb. 10
Probability and Uncertainty—the Quantum Mechanical View of Nature	Feb. 17
Seeking New Laws	Feb. 24

TV program to deal with math problems

"Why Johnny Can't Count" is the title of the half-hour television program "Feedback" to be aired Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. on the Oregon Educational and Public Broadcasting System.

Originating live from the University, the program will feature host Vern Mueller and guests Alan Hoffer, University associate professor of mathematics and director of a National Science Foundation project on the teaching of math, and Fred Andrews, head of the University math department.

The program offers viewers a chance to phone in questions to panelists, and is broadcast on PL-3, Eugene.

Leaders needed for playgrounds

Eugene Parks and Recreation Department is looking for a few good people to work as playground leaders for their summer program. The department needs persons with experience and/or skills in sports and games, arts and crafts and special programs.

Interviewing and hiring will be done at Amazon, Bethel, Sheldon and Westmoreland Community Centers. Applications are available at each of the centers and must be completed by February 13.
