The "briefs" section is for campus and community announcements. No brief will be published that charges an admission or donation fee. However, classes that charge tuition or dinner events that offer a free program even to those who do not buy a dinner will be accepted.

All briefs must be typed, triple-spaced in a 65-unit margin. Handwritten briefs will be given low priority. Briefs will be published one time only in any seven-day period, as space permits.

MEETINGS

There will be a Cycling Club Meeting today at 7:30 p.m. in the EMU, room to be posted.

An informational meeting will be held tonight at 7 in the EMU, room to be posted, for persons interested in attending "Man and the Oregon Coast," an inter-disciplinary problem solving program in Charleston, Ore.

Field work, informal classes and credit are offered during the coast visit spring term.

Interested persons must apply at Room 206, Science III, no later than Feb. 20.

Tonight's meeting will cover application procedures and background information.

SPEAKERS

"Language and Society": A dialogue and discussion on Sociolinguistics with Dr. Derry Malsch.

MISCELLANEOUS

Open hearings on ASUO-funded programs will continue today in 101 EMU. Fifteen academic and research-oriented programs are slated for discussion from 4 to 6 p.m.

Sponsored by the ASUO Executive, the hearings are open to all students interested in determining allocation of incidental fees.

There will be a People's Law School class tonight on "Legal Problems You Can Avoid." Topics to be covered include: Avoiding Landlord-Tenant Problems, Buying a Used Car, Obtaining and Keeping Credit, and Selecting a Lawyer. The class meets at 7 p.m. at the Central Presbyterian Church, 1475 Ferry. All are welcome.

UO law students wish to remind you that if you have a legal problem you may call Legal Connections, a free, confidential legal referral service. We'll try to tell you where to find free or low-cost legal help. We can't help everyone, but we might help you! Call 686-3829 between 6 and 10 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The Ella Travis Edmunson and Mercy Travis Davis Memorial Scholarship is awarded annually to a sophomore, junior or senior undergraduate woman student enrolled at the University on a full-time basis. Applicants should be in good academic standing and have demonstrated potential leadership capabilities. The scholarship is to enable the recipient to give service in an open community after graduation. Applications and reference forms are available at the YWCA Lounge in Gerlinger Hall. The deadline is March 17, 1976. Minority women are encouraged to apply.

Now is the time to plan how you will pay for school next year. If you are an older student, have been away from the University for awhile, or are supporting yourself, and interested in financial assistance, take time out for a no-host lunch at the Faculty Club Thursday from 12:30 to 1:30 to hear Ruth Burns, associate director of financial aids, discuss the types of financial aid for which you are eligible.

AV FILMS

The following instructional rental films have arrived early. Faculty may schedule them for classes with the audiovisual media center before 2:30 p.m. the day before they are needed. Students or faculty may request showings on a first served basis Monday through Friday between 6 and 10 in the evening. Films are not available after the showdate listed below.

Board appoints Dean Harris

The dean of the University's architecture and allied arts school, Robert Harris, has been appointed to a four-year term on the National Architectural Accrediting Board. The board is the accrediting agency for professional degree programs in architecture.

"I look forward to participating. The board is an important forum for discussion of central issues pertaining to changes and improvements in architectural practice and education," says Harris.

He notes that membership also provides an opportunity to visit three or four other schools each year and obtain detailed information about effective programs throughout the nation.

Author Welsh plans reading

Native American author James Welsh will present a reading from his works of poetry and fiction today at 8 p.m. in the EMU, room to be posted.

The acclaimed author also will present commentary on the contemporary Native American Movement in writing and its impact upon society. A member of the Blackfeet tribe, Welsh is the author of a book of poems, "Riding the Earthboy 40," and a novel, "Winter in the Blood."

Welsh currently serves as a faculty member at the University of Washington. His appearance is sponsored by the University's English and anthropology departments under a grant from the University Centennial Assembly and Lectures Committee.

Knot tying joins outdoor series

Tonight's Cascade Winter College (CWC) program will emphasize knot tying, anchors and belaying, and roped travel.

Sponsored by the Outdoor Program, CWC is a program of free informal instruction sessions on outdoor winter pursuits.

The program will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the EMU, room to be posted.

In addition to the indoor classes, weekend trips are planned. All CWC activities are open to the public. For more information, contact the Outdoor Program in Room 23 EMU or phone 686-4364.

Campus news airs on cable

Cable Television subscribers can now watch special news broadcasts about the University on PL-3, cable channel 7.

Taped on Fridays, the news will air Mondays at 9 a.m., 5 p.m. and 7 p.m.; Tuesdays at 9 a.m., 5 p.m. and 6 p.m.; Wednesdays at 9 a.m., 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. Friday's show will be live at 4 p.m. and repeated at 5 p.m.

The programs will last 5 to 10 minutes.

IFC reserve applications due Friday

If you have a campus organization asking the Incidental Fee Committee (IFC) for some of its 1975-76 reserve funds, you'll have to get your request in by Friday.

After Friday, the IFC will initiate action only on "emergency" requests for supplemental funding. Until then, they will take applications for more funds from the IFC's Reserve Account.

The IFC voted Monday to set the deadline "so we can get about the business of preparing for the spring budget," said member Jan Oliver.

Maybe you don't like to spend your noontimes indoors?

If not, the EMU Food Service Trailer would like to eat lunch with you.
