'Americana' sparks show

A "Bicentennial Happening" will be held in Gerlinger Lounge tonight from 7:30 to 11. Sponsored by the University School of Music Graduate Group (MGG), the event will feature dance and entertainment in honor of the nation's bicentennial. Entertainment will range from early Americana to modern rock. Performers will include a Dixieland band, the University Jazz Choir and pianist Jerry Blodgett, who will perform some of Gershwin's works.

Live and recorded music will help recapture the sounds of the past. Square dancing steps will be taught and a "Limbo" dance contest is planned.

Refreshments will be provided. Tickets are $1.50 in advance from the music school office and $2 at the door. Proceeds will help finance future MGG projects.

Church group slates meetings

The third in a series of four inter-church group seminars will meet Sunday, Feb. 15 at the Central Lutheran Church, East Eighteenth Avenue and Potter Street.

Running from 5 to 7 p.m., separate workshops of the Ninth Annual Interchurch Seminars will explore the topics of 1) Our radical beginnings: a study in the Book of Acts, 2) Prayer: the integration of faith and life, 3) The nation yet to be: Christian mission and the new patriotism, 4) Education - quo vadis?, 5) Marriage is alive and well in Eugene - or is it?, 6) Southeast Asia: a Christian presence, 7) The U.S. economy - 1976, and 8) People and systems.

The series is sponsored by 23 area churches.

Folk concert set tonight

The Native American Student Union at the University will stage a variety show and folk concert tonight at 8 p.m. in Beall Concert Hall. The show will feature both small group and individual performers, according to Dennis DeGross, the group's advisor.

Among the performers will be the Toelken Family, a local folk music performing group featuring Barre Toelken, professor of English; banjo player Rusty Oelheim, who will sing and play some of his own ballads; Jill Hodgen, playing a musical saw; Twilo Scofield on the psaltery, a stringed instrument similar to a zither; and Herbie Cawthorne, reading the poetry of Langston Hughes.

George Wasson, a member of the Coos Indian Tribe, will be the master of ceremonies.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at the EMU main desk and at the Chrystal Ship in downtown Eugene. Admission is $2 for University students and $3 for the general public. Tickets also will be on sale at the door.

All proceeds from the event will go to the Native American Legal Defense Fund.

Fauna inhabit museum spot

Alfred C. Shelton's zoological collections are currently featured in an exhibit at the University Museum of Natural History.

Shelton's collection will be displayed daily from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and will be open for viewing weekends from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Admission is free and the public is invited to visit.
