

Soviet Angolans recognized

(AP)—Major European countries prepped on Tuesday to follow the lead of France and swiftly recognize the Soviet-backed Popular Movement—MPLA—as the legitimate government of Angola following its battlefield victories.

The European Common Market's expected action is likely to trigger similar moves around the world, but the United States, which supported rival factions in the civil war, was expected to delay any decision on recognizing the MPLA regime.

In Washington, the International Relations Committee of the House of Representatives approved a new ban on any U.S. aid to Angolan factions without specific approval from Congress. Last month the House rejected a specific request from Pres. Ford for further U.S. aid to MPLA rivals, the National Union and the National Front.

State Department spokesman John Trattner, asked if the United States would extend recognition, said, "I don't think we are at that point."

"I don't think it has been established who is in charge or who controls the situation on the ground in Angola," Trattner said. "And while Cuban forces, supported by Soviet arms, are still fighting there, I do not think it is appropriate for that recognition to be considered."

The MPLA's People's Republic of Angola was recognized earlier by the Soviet bloc, the Organization of African Unity and 27 of its 46 African member nations, North Korea, Brazil and Cuba. Brazil, like the Soviet Union, recognized the MPLA last Nov. 11 when Angola gained independence from Portugal.

France, the first major Western power to accept the MPLA, said it did so "in view of the fact that the Luanda government exercises its authority over most of the territory." The MPLA has been supported in its advance by large shipments of Soviet weapons and the help of Cuban troops.

In the latest military developments, a spokesman for the pro-Western National Union faction said MPLA forces, which have already taken the northern and central parts of the country, were marching south toward the border of neighboring South-West Africa, also called Namibia.

Rubin Chitacumbi, the National Union representative in Kinshasa, Zaire, said the MPLA now controls the southern coastal city of Mocamedes and the inland town of Sa Da Bandeira, which had been abandoned by National Union forces in their shift to guerilla warfare from the countryside.
