

Careers aim of workshop

University employes will have a chance to learn about the importance of career planning and other career-related subjects at a career development workshop Wed., Feb. 25 in the EMU, room to be posted.

The workshop, conducted as part of the University's career development program, is open to all classified staff, deans, department heads and directors. Objectives of the workshop include developing an understanding of career planning, increasing knowledge about the University and the various resources on and off campus which can aid this process, and increasing an employe's understanding of himself.

The workshop will run from 9 a.m. to noon, followed by lunch. Total cost of the workshop is $5.

Employees wishing to attend should call the personnel department to make a reservation and send their departmental requisitions to the department by Thursday. The workshop is limited to 50 participants, and date of application will determine priority.

BRING sets campus stop

The BRINGmobile will be on campus Monday afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30 to receive recycleable glass, metal and paper.

Labels and lids should be removed from bottles and jars.

In addition to accepting aluminum, tin, lead and jar and bottle lids, the BRINGmobile accepts cardboard and white paper, stacked and tied.

The BRING warehouse is open for drop-off material or purchase of containers on Saturday and Sunday from 10 to 4. BRING either recycles the items collected or resells them to people who need them. For information about hours, locations or types of recycleables accepted, call 746-3023.

Minde is general director and conductor of the Portland Opera.

A native of Germany, he came to the U.S. in 1968 and received the C.D. Jackson prize for conducting at the Berkshire Music Festival in Tanglewood.

Relief drive draws help

The Salvation Army has arranged for a direct communications line to Guatemala for missing persons inquiries.

Supplies and donations are needed for the Salvation Army's relief efforts. Some food and medical supplies have already arrived in Guatemala, where the death toll from the heaviest earthquake in Central American history has reached 20,000.

Boise Cascade has donated 75 tons of plywood and Foremost-Mckesson has given 104,000 pounds of dough mix to the Salvation Army relief efforts. Donations may be sent to the Salvation Army Guatemala Disaster, P.O. Box 8798, Portland 97208.

Guest leads wind program

The University Symphonic Wind Ensemble will perform today at 8 p.m. in the School of Music, Beall Concert Hall.

The program will feature Stefan Minde, who will conduct the "Serenade in B Flat, K 361" by Mozart and the "Suite Francaise" by Darius Milhaud.

KWAX airs opera 'Marriage'

University radio station KWAX (91.1 FM) will broadcast Mozart's four-act masterpiece, "The Marriage of Figaro" Saturday at 10:30 a.m. The broadcast is made possible by the Texaco-Metropolitan Opera Radio Network.

At 9 p.m., Saturday, KWAX will present the Festival of American Folklife segment of National Public Radio's Folk Festival USA. Program highlights include music from the Arican Diaspora with Johnny Shines, and the National Old Time Fiddlers Contest with the finalists and winners.
