ESCAPE SEEKS SPECIAL EDUCATION MAJORS

Children with Problems

Need Your Help this Spring

Each quarter ESCAPE receives requests to help children who have emotional problems, learning disabilities, mental retardation and physical handicaps.

Student volunteers are needed in two vital roles this winter:

- 1) As field coordinators where you can learn communication and management skills, develop leadership abilities and gain familiarity in many areas of special education.
- 2) As tutors where you will work directly with special education children, gain experience and develop skills in teaching and working with professionals in this field.

Upper division credit is available: C1 409 and 509. We welcome interested students to join us in planning curriculum and placement for next term.

If you would like to be involved in SPECIAL EDUCATION with ESCAPE next term, please contact Dan Woo or Jack Royle in the ESCAPE Office (327 EMU) 686-4351.
