Mac Court 'doll-drums'

In addition to the usual registration-day armload of backpacks, time schedules, fee cards and number two pencils, this woman carried a less common piece of Mac Court equipment. Pausing momentarily to attend to more domestic concerns, she held her young charge's doll and then turned back to scan the closed-sections board and the lengthening lines.

Credits available for community work

ESCAPE volunteers can now earn credit for working at the Community Center for the Performing Arts, formerly known as the W.O.W. Hall.

Sarah Stone, head of the communications committee for the center, says from three to seven volunteers will be accepted "depending on how able they are."

Volunteers will either work in publicity and community relations, funding and grant writing or volunteer coordination. Stone says that all of the jobs require an ability to work with people, independence and some writing skills.

Stone says the work could be valuable experience for people interested in learning how community centers are established, funded and operated.

"It's only been going since January, so everything is at a fundamental level of development," she says.

Interested people can register at the ESCAPE table today or at the ESCAPE office in the EMU.

Convention seeks students

At least a thousand students are needed as delegates for the mock Democratic Convention.

The delegates in the convention, scheduled for May 13-14 at McArthur Court, will participate in a spring term class. The class PS 199, will offer one hour of pass/no pass credit.

For more information, contact the PSSU at 819 PLC or call 686-4899.

We're looking for one political activist on this campus.

That's right—just one individual committed to liberty should be reading this ad. Could it be you?

We're the Young Libertarian Alliance—the college affiliates of the rapidly-growing national Libertarian Party. We're organizing YLA chapters on every major campus, and we need a coordinator right here.

Are you qualified for the job? The YLA coordinator must be someone who's dedicated to achieving a free society through political action. He—or she—will be responsible for establishing a YLA chapter, organizing meetings, rallies and demonstrations, and publicizing libertarianism.

The Libertarian Party, though less than five years old, is now organized in all 50 states. Our platform calls for a strict respect for civil liberties, a non-interventionist foreign policy, and a free-market economy.

Roger MacBride, our presidential candidate, is a non-politician who recognizes that the Republican and Democratic Parties are entrenched, establishment institutions whose only goal is the perpetuation of their own power.

The Libertarian Party is a new alternative—a young and dynamic political force that's committed to individual freedom and opposed to government oppression in every form.

If you think you've got what it takes to be a YLA coordinator, write or call us collect. We've got a campus information kit that will get you started. And we'll give you all the help and advice we can.

One final word: As a YLA campus coordinator, you'll do a lot of hard work. And the salary is zilch. But there is one small compensation: You'll be helping to achieve Freedom in Our Time.
